Antioch residents unite to block riverboat plan

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Several Antioch Township residents have awoken to the uneasy feeling that riverboat gambling in Lake County could become a reality.

Now, after recovering from the shock of having a multi-million dollar gambling enterprise located only hundreds of feet from their homes, these concerned residents now want to send a wake up call to Lake County Board member and Antioch Township Supervisor Jim Fields to join their fight against the proposed gambling site.

Numerous township residents, who live along the winding banks of the Fox River just north of Rte. 173, gathered at United Methodist Church in Antioch to discuss their feelings and plans to stop a riverboat gambling dock to be placed near their homes.

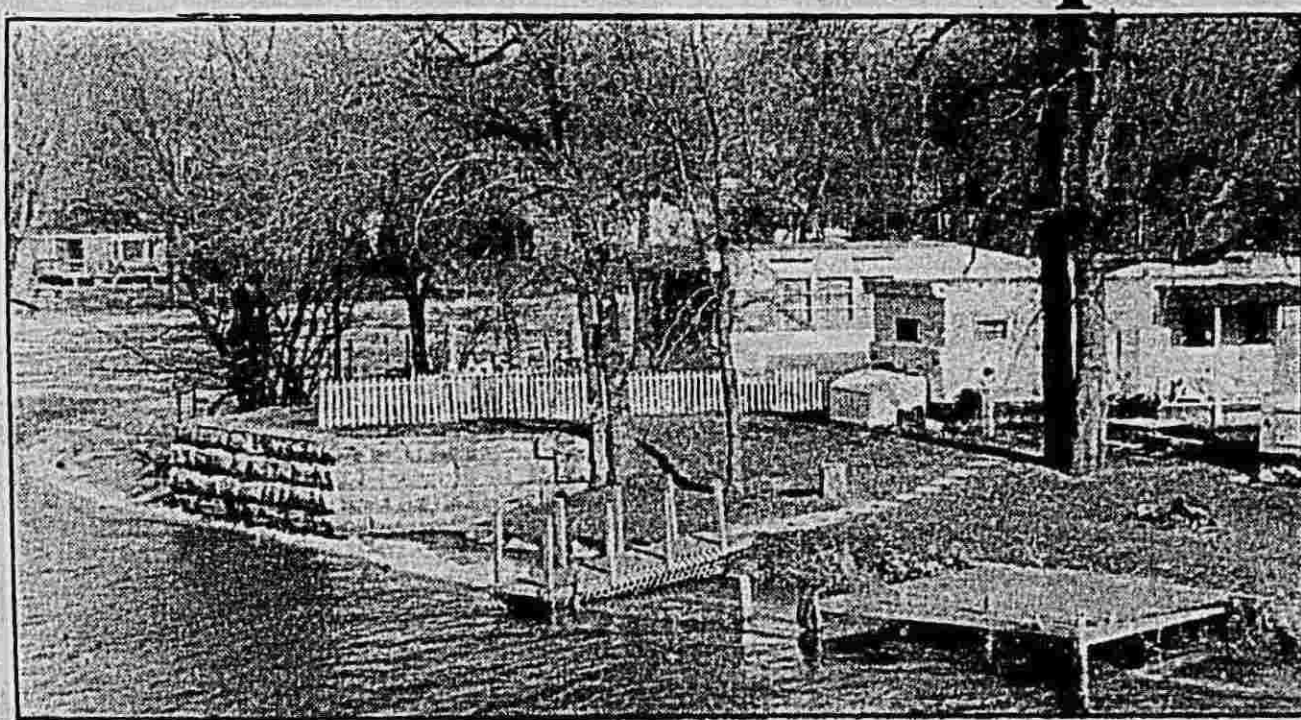

Resident Roy Sackschewsky, who would live only 100 feet from the passing riverboats, began his fight against the Fox River location after reading about it in a daily newspaper.

"I was shocked when I read about the site," said Sackschewsky. "This plan would shut down the river for everything except riverboat gambling."

According to the plans released by the Fox Riverboat Limited Partners, the Fox River site would host two 65 foot wide, 125 foot long ships that could carry some 600 passengers.

"The river is less than 100 feet wide in spots north of the Rte. 173 bridge," said Sackschewsky. "I don't know what kind of noise these boats will make, but I still have yet to hear a quiet air conditioning system."

According to Sackschewsky, more

Board requests casino hearing

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Prompted by the presence of a capacity crowd, the Antioch Village Board voted to ask the Lake County Board for a delay in the granting of docking rights to a Fox River gambling group until a public hearing can be scheduled.

The unanimous vote caused an uproar of applause from the large group of local citizens who gathered in the Antioch Village Hall to tell their first link of the government chain that they do not want the Fox Riverboat Limited Partnership to run a gambling ship near their homes.

The board, however, added to their resolution that the board's action will not have any jurisdiction in the county or state's decision to offer the Fox River

Wilton awaits tourism's return

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

When Antioch Mayor Robert Wilton was a young man, tourism was a very popular pastime in Antioch's downtown business district.

Today, Antioch businesses need a helpful boost in the arm, and Wilton believes that could be a nearby floating casino on the Fox River, just north of Rte. 173.

"We need something to get people back into to our downtown area," said Wilton. "The riverboat gambling would affect our restaurants, our gift shops. We need that."

Advocates for the casino believe thousands of people could head for the site weekly, traveling through Antioch on their way.

Opponents to the riverboat casino say

The Employee of the Year is chosen by Allendale's staff, with the criteria for nomination being exemplary performance and dedication to Allendale.

Students apologize for 'joining' KKK

LIBERTYVILLE — Some of the 20-25 students who signed a list expressing an interest in the formation of a Ku Klux Klan group at Libertyville High School expressed their apologies to the LHS student body in a letter to the editor of the school newspaper, Drops of Ink. "We do not consider you as a 'group' of people to be categorized by race or religion. We consider you by your first names as our friends . . . And please accept our apology," the letter concluded. School officials continue to withhold the names of the three well-known students, all 17, who were suspended Dec. 3 for attempting to form an organization they called Ku Klux Klan. Those students returned to school Dec. 17. The school is withholding names of the students included on the membership list as well. Of the 2,180 students at Libertyville High School, 11 percent are minorities, with 1.2 percent African-American, 2.7 percent Hispanic, 7.3 percent Asian and 0.4 percent Native American.

Area schools receive federal 'Blue Ribbon'

LAKE COUNTY — Three area schools won "Excellence in Education" awards in the US Department of Education Blue Ribbon Schools Program. Laura B. Sprague in Lincolnshire, Adler Park School in Libertyville and Washington School in Mundelein were among 12 schools in Illinois and 228 nationwide to receive the award. Schools were evaluated on a wide range of criteria including faculty and administration leadership, a school climate conducive to effective teaching and learning, academic achievement, and strong involvement by parents and community in school affairs.

Library seeking residents' viewpoints

GRAYSLAKE — Grayslake Area Public Library district residents will be able to tell the library their views in a survey. The survey was published in the fall-winter newsletter. "We had a survey about six years ago about what people wanted, but we have never had a building survey," A. Robert Topel, administrative librarian, said. Topel is expected to report survey results to the library board at its Jan. 12 meeting.

Villages want input on Route 53 plans

HAWTHORN WOODS — Planning for the future is one topic on the agenda of three neighboring villages as they look toward signing an intergovernmental agreement that would send a message to the Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT) about future development of Route 53. The Southern Corridor Planning Council will meet Jan. 6 in their continuing discussions of the expansion of the state route. At that meeting, the Village of Hawthorn Woods and the Village of Long Grove will propose that the Village of Kildeer join with them in an intergovernmental agreement to preserve wetlands in the area. A joint board meeting of the three villages is tentatively slated for February at the Hawthorn Woods Village Hall.

Dist. 187 faces bleak future without aid

NORTH CHICAGO — North Chicago Unit District 187 officials laid it on the line in a citizens informational meeting — $1.5 million in additional cuts or the dissolution of the district. A decision must be made by April 1, 1993. North Chicago needs additional state money and a shift in the way schools are funded by the state to ensure long-term viability as well as full entitlement of federal impact aid due to the district for the education of military dependents. The district must make an additional $1.5 million in cuts prior to the 1993-94 school year to be solvent. If the district dissolved, students would be absorbed by Lake Forest and Libertyville area school districts.

Antioch casino plan draws public outcry

ANTIOCH — When Antioch Mayor Robert Wilton was a young man, tourism was a very popular pastime in Antioch's downtown business district. Today, Antioch businesses need a helpful boost in the arm, and Wilton believes that could be a nearby floating casino on the Fox River, just north of Rte. 173. Almost immediately after the announcement was made, a group of residents banded together to attempt to stop the development. Advocates for the casino believe thousands of people could head for the site weekly, traveling through Antioch on their way. Opponents to the riverboat casino say there is no good example the gambling industry can show as a success story. Gambling, according to Rev. Tom Grey, the United Methodist Church anti-gambling liaison to the Antioch opposition effort, drains the economy and could even eliminate what tourism dollars are already being spent in Antioch. The Lake County Board passed a resolution, which will enable the plan to be passed by the gaming commission in Springfield in 1993.

Woodland discusses middle school plan

GAGES LAKE — Woodland Dist. 50 may be joining the ranks of school districts which have signed on to the middle school concept. The board of education approved an action plan which could lead to a final decision by the board on or before December, 1993.

County board Ok's site for riverboat gambling

After a three-hour debate Tuesday, the Lake County Board approved the location of a riverboat gambling site just north of Rte. 173 on the Fox River.

Before riverboat gambling becomes a reality in Lake County, however, Fox Riverboat L.P. must secure the last of 10 licenses being issued by the state. Fox Riverboat is vying with other communities for the license. A determination will be made by the state this spring.

During the county board meeting, it was originally determined there should be a public hearing on the subject after concern was voiced by Antioch residents. Despite passing the measure, the county board called for after-the-fact public hearings later this month.

"If they get the license, it's a go," said Fox Lake Trustee Alberta Meyer after the county board vote.

Fox Lake officials wish the project would have been located within Fox Lake. As it stands, the direct school revenue will go to Antioch.

"We would have liked to have it in the village," Meyer said. But, she added, Fox Lake will benefit.

"Not right away, but eventually, I think it could work out for us."

The people of Fox Riverboat L.P. say the whole county will reap the benefits, including increased tourism and the creation of around 1,700 jobs — directly and indirectly related to the riverboats.

"Once fully operational, the riverboats are projected to contribute $10 million of new gaming tax revenue to the county each year," Fox Riverboat L.P. Chairman Glenn Seidenfeld said.

The docking site will be on 20 acres commonly known as Fox River Recreation Campgrounds. Two 600-passenger boats will operate on that area of the river. A complete permanent facility, including a restaurant, will be built at the site.

Leads developing in beating after Grant-Grayslake game

Grayslake Police Chief Edward Wunderle said his department has new leads in the severe beating of a Grant High School junior after the Grant-Grayslake game.

Christian Falster, 17, was beaten with an unknown instrument — perhaps a wooden mallet — after the Dec. 15 contest. Falster was taken to Condell Medical Center and released the next day after a CAT Scan. He's back in school but still suffering from an eye injury that came in the beating.

"He's recovering," said Bob Falster, Christian's father. "He's not a big boy, but he's got a lot of heart."

The elder Falster said his son was attempting to leave the parking lot but was blocked by a group of youths.

"He had my new truck and he tried to leave," Bob Falster said. "He got out and said, 'I've got to get out of here.' He told them he had a curfew at home."

"He told them he didn't want to fight but a kid punched him. There were eight or nine boys there, and three or four were on top of Christian."

Sometime during the melee, Falster was beaten with an instrument. Wunderle said it could have been a wooden mallet used as a tenderizer.

Wunderle said a lack of witnesses has slowed the investigation, but new leads may result in an arrest.

"We're working with school officials, and I think we've got some good leads."

The police chief said there were three fights that night and one juvenile has already been arrested in connection with one of those altercations.

"We don't even know if these were students from Grayslake High School," Bob Falster said. "I was born and raised in this area and I never thought this would happen in a place like Grayslake. I hope these boys are brought to justice."

Christian Falster is an all-around athlete for Grant — a quarterback and pitcher.

Recycle holiday white foam

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

An Antioch material company is offering to recycle area consumer's used packing materials as a part of a nationwide recycling campaign to give Mother Earth a holiday gift.

Tuscarora Integrated Materials Group, located at 182 Ida Ave., invites consumers to drop off their EPS (expanded polystyrene) white foam and "peanuts" beginning Dec. 6.

Residents can bring the foam, which is used as packaging material to protect, insulate and cushion all types of gifts during the holidays, to the material company from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. Tuscarora's EPS recycling program will be a permanent, year-round program.

"The holidays always generate a considerable amount of foam packaging," said Brian LaCourse, manufacturing manager at Tuscarora. "As a manufacturer of EPS foam packaging, we recognize our responsibility to ensure its proper disposal. That is why we want to encourage those who use our product to give it a second life through recycling."

According to LaCourse, the foam will be collected and ground up and used for toy fill and bean bags.

Their dedication to the community enabled many families to have a traditional holiday meal for Christmas. Including Thanksgiving, the group has now passed out over 250 food baskets this year. Inside the baskets were $20 gift certificates to Ben Franklin so the children in those family's could purchase a toy for Christmas.—Photo by Thomas Stevens.

Fairchild did it again, entertained whole village

What a guy

Well, Russ Fairchild did it again! He expertly entertained us with his annual Holiday Stroll column. What a nice way to keep in touch and informed about all of our wonderful Antioch friends and neighbors. Did you all notice, he even gave a fantastic plug to The Lizard's "Hometown Goodies" column. Thanks, Russ, for the mention. I could use all the help and publicity that I can get. Keep the "Stroll" coming and we all wish you a very Merry Christmas and a Happy, Safe and Healthy New Year. You are definitely one of the human "Landmarks" of our "Hometown!"

Dist. 114

Many students in Fox Lake Grade School Dist. achieved the "A" and "B" honor roll for the first quarter grading period. Congratulations are in order for all the students earning this recognition and special mention is extended to the "A" academic honor students—Amanda Brinigar, William Smith, Amanda Ducat, Dan Hastings, Jillian Huhn, Michelle Larson, Charlie Clinton, Matt Janowicz, Matt Pennington, Cathy Minkolis, Jennifer Payton, Ashley Jarret, Timothy Albites, Neil Drews, Amber Harden, Megan Stanis, Erika Yeater, William Smith and Shari Helminski.

The Lotus School students of the month for

SHARE/food for 1993

Making those food dollars stretch is always a challenge. But the SHARE/Food program sponsored locally by the Antioch Exchange Club can help food dollars go a long way.

SHARE/Food members pay $15 per month and two hours of volunteer time. In exchange they get a well-balanced package of food worth more than $40. The package typically contains several types of meat, various vegetables, fruits, plus staples such as pasta, rice and cereals. The food is high-quality and brand name and the package also contains a newsletter with recipes and meal plans.

SHARE/Food is not a government subsidized program and anyone, regardless of economic status, can join. Members pay their $15 and commit to two hours a month of volunteer service. The volunteer hours can be spent helping package and distribute the Share/Food packages.

SHARE (Self-Help and Resource Exchange) founded in 1983, is a non-profit, grass roots organization with outreach to communities in Chicago, Northern Illinois, Indiana and Southern Michigan.

For more information, call the SHARE/Food Coordinators Claudette Skvarce at 395-6744.

"Most Cooperative" category goes to Amy Hoffelt, Ashley Tennyson, Brandy Vepley, Amanda Ducat, Susan Kasten, Shannon Chevette, Rachel Viciondi and Linda Woepse.

Furry grandson

My daughter, Donna, recently moved closer to home. Her new residence is approximately 3/4 to one mile away. However, it is not a straight route from our house. Our road curves out to one road, that road zig-zags into another and then Donna's subdivision curves and winds off of that one. Weather permitting, Donna will occasionally take her dogs for a walk and during those walks has made her way all the way back to our neck of the woods a couple of times.

On this particular Saturday, I sat typing at my computer. Suddenly Andrew and Bertha began to excitedly bark out of control. I went to the back door to see who or what was disturbing them. The intruder turned out to be my part-Keeshound, furry "grandson," Spud. Donna thought he was exercising in her yard, instead he decided a visit to his "human" grandmother was in order. The interruption was pleasant and warming, because it reminded me how nice it is to have Donna living so close again. Come again, Spud, and next time bring De De and Samantha with you!

Resolutions

With the new year upon us, people are presently resolving to do this and to do that this coming year. I think one of the best New Year resolutions anyone can make is to treat others with kindness, think positive thoughts and laugh as often as possible. Merry Christmas to everyone and have a very Happy New Year. Throughout the holiday season (and always), please remember that drinking and driving definitely do not mix.

Building greenlight

Construction OK for two buildings brightens holidays for CLC.

Trustees of College of Lake County and President Daniel J. LaVista have been "making their list and checking it twice." And now Santa is on his way with two new buildings at the mid-county Grayslake campus, a $13.6 million multi-purpose classroom building and a $9.6 cultural arts center.

The classroom building is being made possible with state grants. The arts facility will be paid for with $5 million in set aside funds and a capital funding program that will go forward with college benefactors extending Christmas spirit year-around.

CLC trustees put their stamp of approval on the building program. Now only the formal greenlight is needed from two state agencies to beckon the bulldozers. Happy New Year has special meaning this year at CLC.

Warm parting words

State Rep. Virginia Frederick recounts advances as she bids farewell to residents of former district.

There's a widely held misconception that all politicians are shady and that politics is a seamy profession. That's incorrect, of course. Evidence abounds to refute political stereotypes.

One political practitioner who holds to the highest calling is State Rep. Virginia Fiestler Frederick, who survived a rugged election test this fall to emerge victorious in a newly drawn district in east Lake County.

In changing districts, Frederick demonstrated what a thoughtful and thorough legislator she is by running newspaper advertisements to say good-bye to her former constituents in Grayslake, Gurnee, Libertyville, Mundelein, Round Lake, Round Lake Park and Wildwood.

She served residents of these communities for 10 years, getting to know many of them by their first names. When Rep. Frederick says she is turning to a new district with a certain sadness, we know she speaks from the heart.

The highly respected Lake Forest legislator took the opportunity in her farewell message to touch on some of the progressive steps taken in Illinois the past decade that are notable, even though there still is much to be done as she rightly noted--cracking down on drunk drivers, crime and drugs; helpful tax reform; property tax cap; beginnings of meaningful school reform; establishment of domestic violence shelters; small business incentives, and bringing Lake Michigan water to inland villages.

Virginia Frederick has had a hand in many changes that make for better living. Her warm parting words add to the feelings of good will at a time of the year when politics takes a holiday.

Extraordinary needs

Answers to troubled district financial woes lie in Springfield where bailouts are common.

The financial troubles of the North Chicago unit school district are extraordinarily complicated. It will take extraordinary measures to solve them.

Supt. Patrick Patt of Oak Grove School undoubtedly was premature at best when he labeled "ludicrous" a solution offered by State Sen. David Barkhausen (R-Lake Forest). Barkhausen suggested that the wealthier districts nearby (including Oak Grove) come up with funds to cover North Chicago's budget shortfall.

One suggestion has been to dissolve the North Chicago district and have its pupils and assets be absorbed by neighboring districts like Libertyville, Lake Bluff and Lake Forest. Considering the socioeconomic impact of such an alternative, the Barkhausen plan might not look so far out.

North Chicago school officials themselves have suggested dissolution, short of further wage cuts and elimination of many programs. Considering the state's tight fiscal condition, county legislators are timid about looking to Springfield for bailout assistance. State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa), however, sees the possibility of new programs to rescue districts like North Chicago.

Looking to Springfield, though, is exactly what should be done. That's where the laws are made. It's no great stretch to draft guidelines where the state could come to the rescue of North Chicago or other financially overwhelmed districts. The Springfield politicians are rescuing Chicago schools all the time. It's about time a life line is tossed to other deserving districts.

Merry Christmas

Viewpoint

Home's where you find one! Santa knows

by BILL SCHROEDER

Even for the homeless, Santa Claus has plans to find them as he makes his rounds Christmas Eve.

That's the advance word from Lake County Pads, the volunteer organization that provides shelter and a hot meal for unfortunates who don't have a home.

Two regular Thursday night Pads shelters will be open Dec. 24, Church of the Annunciation, Gurnee, with facilities for 30 persons, and United Protestant Church, Grayslake, which can handle up to 40 persons.

"We never know how many persons there will be, but we'll be ready," reported Doris Erickson, who handles media questions for Pads. One thing Erickson was certain about--that there will be a special Christmas touch to the supper meal offered by the two food coordinators, Bonnie Wright at Gurnee and Evie Turner at Grayslake.

To provide a home-like atmosphere for the homeless Christmas day, St. Marks Lutheran Church of Lindenhurst will be open.

Pads shelters in Lake County reached a total of 16 last Saturday night with the opening of the newest shelter at Wildwood Presbyterian Church.

It takes 20 persons to run a Pads shelter. Volunteers work four-hour shifts. The Lake County organization provides bed and board for 50 to 80 needy persons every night from October to spring when the program is discontinued with the return of warm weather.

John Ames, director, reported that 1,900 shelters were provided in November.

Without a doubt, regulars at the circuit of Pads centers believe in the jolly old man with the white whiskers. And well they should. All of us can play Santa by helping the Pads cause with donations of time, money or goods. Write Pads at P.O. Box 906, Libertyville, or call 708-362-3381. Merry Christmas.

NEEDS JOB--Even though he'll soon be out of a job because of the change of administrations, insiders are predicting that no tag day will be needed for U.S. Dist. Atty. Fred Foreman. Bets are that Foreman will hook up with a prestigious Chicago law firm, while he surveys the field for political opportunities. The Gurnee resident and former Lake County state's attorney likes the public arena so he'll be eyeing big game. Former U.S. attorneys don't make lateral moves.

YOU CAN HELP--If your New Year's resolution is a vow to "get involved," a Safe Place volunteer might fill the bill. The Lake County Crisis Center provides temporary shelter, counseling, court advocacy and other services for victims of domestic violence. Interested persons can take a 40-hour training course beginning Jan. 11. Marsha Ross, volunteer coordinator, can give you particulars being calling 249-5147.

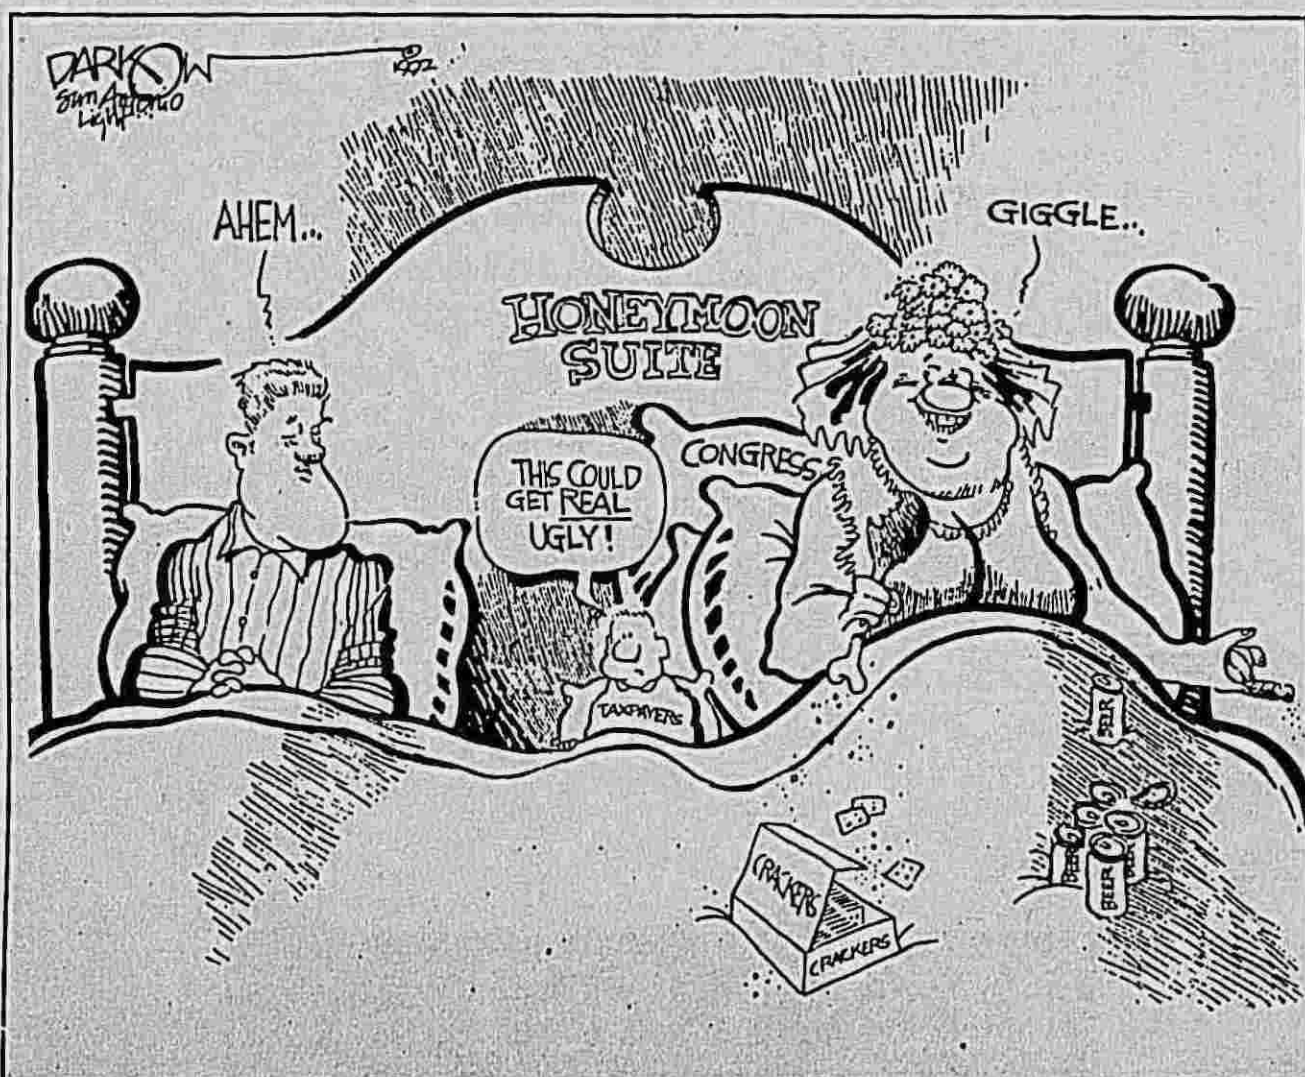

NOTABLE CAREER--Jeff Zgonina is closing out a collegiate football career that stamps him as one of Lake County's most honored athletes in history. So many plaudits have come the way of the Carmel High School graduate that it's easy to miss a few.

Jeff just picked up his Purdue University diploma. After spending the holidays with his family in Barrington, he'll head west for a couple of senior all-star games, the Japan Bowl on Jan. 9 and the Hula Bowl in Honolulu on Jan. 16. Then the 6-2, 285 pound lineman will return to California for the annual East-West Shine game Jan. 23 on the Stanford University campus.

As a mainstay for four years of the Boilermaker defensive line, Zgonina's honors include Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year; first team all-Big Ten; semi-finalist for the Lombardi Award for college football's outstanding lineman; Football News All American; UPI second team All American; AP third team All American; Purdue's Pop Doan award for MVP in the Indiana game (three out of four years); Lafayette, Ind., Kiwanis Club's Outstanding Citizenship Award; all-time Purdue sack leader; top Big 10 tackles for loss leader; 1992 team captain, and new Purdue career and season tackles for loss leader, breaking record of Keena Turner set in 1977.

What's next? Look for Jeff to land a spot in 1993 on the roster of an NFL team. Zgonina's is a cinch to be a top draft choice. After following Jeff's career from his days as a frosh at Carmel, it's interesting to know that his long-held dream is to make the pros. Know what? He's going to see his dream come true. Congratulations, Jeff.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY--From our house to your house, we extend season's greetings and best wishes for a happy holiday.

Teachers, schools and tax dollars

TAIL WAGS DOG

School boards, village boards and other public bodies spend every cent they can get their hands on and then ask for more. They seldom follow the practice of private business by trying to save money or make less go further.

That's the opinion of Mundelein village Trustee Ralph Rohling.

He was reacting to something he read in the newspaper about how "elected officials are out maneuvered by non-elected superintendents, managers and staff" when it comes to budgets, spending and building in-house fiefdoms.

"That's the conclusion I reached during 16 years as a village trustee and three as a high school board member," he said. Rohling also speaks from 39 years in public education on the high school and community college level.

LOOK WHO'S PAYING

Don't count on Round Lake Beach to join the Reinvest in America campaign.

Being promoted by the American Assn. of School Administrators, the campaign focuses on putting America's financial resources into education since they are no longer needed for defense or the cold war.

Locally, the idea is being pushed by Grayslake High School Dist. 127. Sample proclamations have been sent to area taxing bodies asking them to approve and send a copy to their congressman.

"Tear it up," said Round Lake Beach Trustee John Thomas when the matter came before his board.

A former school board member, he said, "when schools get any money it goes to teachers."

"That means the working man earning $25,000 a year pays the salaries of teachers earning $80,000 and $90,000 a year."

YELLOW BRICK ROAD

Newly elected County Board member Pam Newton did her swan song at the Vernon Hills village board meeting last week. She has been a trustee there for eight years.

In following a new path on her Yellow Brick Road she drew an analogy between herself and Dorothy in the "Wizard of Oz."

Village President Barbara Williams was called the Wizard as manager of the board.

Trustee Steve Henley was picked as Toto, Dorothy's dog, "because his bark is worse than his bite."

Trustee Rich Cashman was named the Tinman, "because he has a great heart."

Trustee Jim Heier, the affable village board elder, was affectionately dubbed Mayor of the Munchkins.

Trustee Donald Hook was called the Lion, "because his decisions were always in the best interest of the village and taught me to be courageous."

And Trustee Roger Byrne was called the Scarecrow, "because he was the dearest friend of Dorothy."

NO FREE RIDE

It looks like Bobbie Thompson will have only three challengers in North Chicago's February primary.

There would have been four candidates, but one, Joe Glusic, was tossed off the ballot this week. He went the way of City Clerk hopeful Catherine Collins. Both forgot to file economic interest statements.

That's okay with Thompson. He can beat three as easily as two. The five-term mayor has been doing it for 10 years. There's no easy return trips to City Hall for him. Everyone wants his job.

The same for City Clerk Tim Miller. But with Collins gone he gets a free ride this time around. For him that doesn't happen too often.

Both have been good for North Chicago!

OVERHEARD/SEEN

LAKE VILLA—Highway Comm. James Semmerling promises a wide open township race this spring. He's running on a ticket headed by Karen Sullivan, wife of a local landscape contractor. They're being joined by one township trustee and former township clerk Kathy Kane. Incumbent Supv. Sue Hanson is running with most of the other incumbents. Still waiting to be heard from is Lake Villa Mayor Joyce Frayer. WAUKEGAN—New

Dist. 18 County Board member Pam Newton was overheard lamenting her committee assignments for the next two years at the first Tuesday meeting of the Law and Judicial Committee. "I can't attend Tuesday meetings. I teach that day." Sorry, Pam, but the County Board also meets that day once a month when your committee isn't. GRAYSLAKE—School board member

Tim Madole sat though last week's meeting wearing a white American Airlines visor-type cap. "My wife got it at work," he said. Does he wear it to bed? "No, she won't let me." FOX LAKE—All ears at last week's Grant High School meeting were tuned to the new riverboat gambling Mecca proposed by Fox Riverboat Ltd. But all eyes were on blonde Laurel Blair. She is a partner in Wheatley, Blair, Inc., the Chicago PR firm helping to sell the idea. She's a knockout! LIBERTYVILLE—Businessman and tax watchdog Jack Martin is getting ready to spread his literary wings. Planned is publication of a monthly newsletter of public issues. It will have pro and con articles by different writers on such topics as a new gas tax, impact fees, etc. He's now developing a mailing list of officials serving on the 260 taxing bodies in Lake County. That's at least 2,500 readers.

ROUND LAKE PARK—The mayoral field tended to get crowded until one of the candidates started politicking. Jerry Lomlough, a Waukegan Realtor and member of a well-known family of builders, was all set for a door-to-door campaign. One-time village Trustee Charlene Beyer, who wants to be mayor, too, talked him into joining her ticket. Announced are Trustee Don Newby and former Zoning Commission Chairman Don Otto.

LIBERTYVILLE—Named to head the district office of 61st Dist. state representative-elect Andrea Moore is Joan Mountford. Past president of the Condell Memorial Hospital Auxiliary and member of the Main Street board, she has it all together. VERNON TWP.—For Christmas David Terry, the big spender in the 18th Dist. County Board race won by Pam Newton, called

Beware Of Gambling

This is to the citizens of Fox Lake and the surrounding area. The developers of riverboat gambling are eyeing the Fox Lake area as a potential site. The residents of Barrington and Fox River Gardens had enough foresight to see what this would do to their communities. I don't know about you, but I, for one, do not wish to raise my children in an area that will soon be dominated by the mob. They claim the riverboats will be run by reputable companies, but one need only to look at Las Vegas to know this is a lie. What will be next, legalized prostitution? It would be nice to believe that the village has the best interests of its residents at heart. However, this is not the case. It can't see beyond the dollar signs. Let's wake up and smell the coffee. Let's take our lead from Barrington and Fox River Gardens. We don't have the affluence of those communities, but we still deserve to live in a safe and decent environment. According to an article in the Dec. 11 issue of The Fox Lake Press, if 51 percent of the residents oppose riverboat gambling, then it won't come into the area. If you feel the same way I do, let me hear from you, via Lipservice, and we'll get some type of petition going.

Holiday Greetings?

Holiday greetings to all, especially this readership and to the county's elected leadership. I pray that events in the upcoming year will bring increased hope and reason for cheer. With the help of the Almighty, may we seek to determine (apologies here to Mr. Bob Sherman) ways to improve our local quality of life and abate much personal and political strife. That which we now are forced to continually face, and a happier vision for the future embrace. May our chronic traffic problems begin to relax, without the burden of a higher gas tax. May the bulldozers take a long vacation, before we are most crowded place in the nation. Up to our eyeballs in garbage and crime, with cause for such sorrow all of the time. It may not all happen, but that is my dream; it surely won't happen if don't continue to scream to our elected officials whom we put there to serve us, but who's selfish concerns often make us more nervous. Miracles may happen — county's financial problems all gone thanks to a gambling boatside wheeler, a testament to Bob Depke's skill as a super big dealer.

Buenos Dias

This is a rebuttal to "Wrong Forum For Change." That article was in the Dec. 4 issue. It said, "Look into each others' face and say hello and find out who we are." Well, how can we even look in each others' face when they can't even understand or speak the word "hello?"

Buy American

Do not buy anything made in China. Here are three reasons why. 1. It's cheaply made and it won't last. 2. Buy American. It's made better to last. 3. Red China has more than 200 Catholic priests in their jails being tortured continuously by guards. Bishop Fan died a short time ago after 32 years in a China jail. That should be stopped.

Too Late For Grayslake

Obviously, someone can't be read. Could it be the library board of Grayslake? Seems I read in this paper, not all that long ago, that the park district wanted the library board to join them in building a combined community center/library complex at considerable savings to the community. Interagency cooperation at its best, with an obvious concern for the taxpayer. The library board wasn't ready. Too bad for us taxpayers. Now, they're ready, it seems. Wasn't Central Park for free a good enough deal for you?

Great Program

I just attended the Fox Lake Lotus holiday program and I'd like to say the teachers did a great job with the costumes. The music teacher did a terrific job with the students and their singing. The audience was appropriately enthusiastic. The students were fantastic. I believe it was the type of program that put everyone in the holiday spirit, in a positive way. And it's a pleasure to see a school district do something in this manner.

Where's Ponderosa?

Good afternoon. I live in the Round Lake Beach area and I have a question. I understand they are building a new plaza near Wal-Mart, and I'm just wondering what happened to the Ponderosa that was going to be where a muffler place is now? I eat all your tacos, pizzas, hamburgers, hot dogs and beef sandwiches, but I would love to have a steak. How about all you readers out there that would love to have a Ponderosa in the area giving your say-so and calling to Lipservice or writing to the mayor.

He's No Animal Lover

This is a warning to anyone who calls the Fox Lake Police Dept. for help. Yesterday, a call went into the station reporting a lost dog. The disinterested officer said that no one had reported a dog. When the caller asked if they should leave their name, the rude police officer said, "No, I don't want your name." Then he said, "Take the dog to where you found it and dump it off." Nice suggestion, officer. NOT!

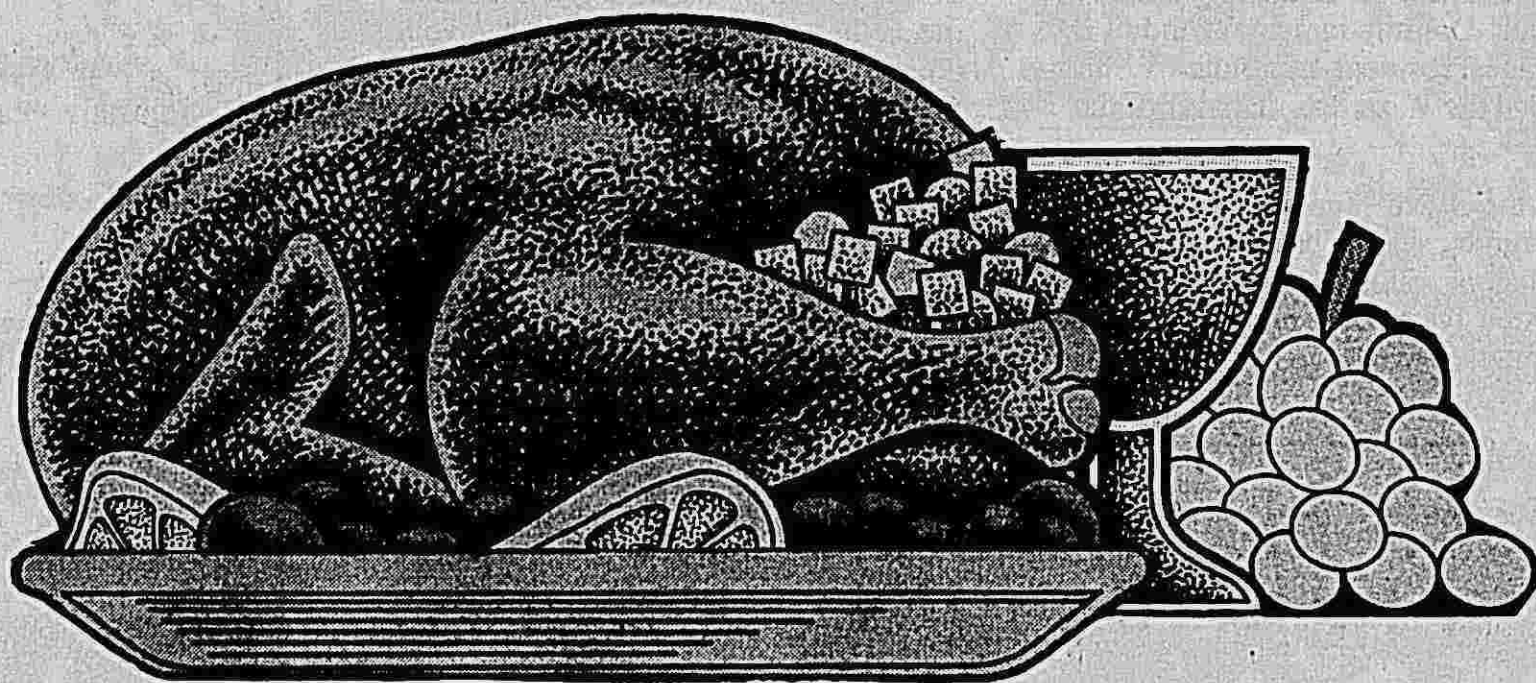

Thanks, Mr. Sherman

I'm calling from Wauconda and here's what I'd like to say to Wauconda residents. Hey, Wauconda, we should be thanking Mr. Sherman for his atheism. As a matter of fact, I'd like to say God bless the atheists, especially Mr. Sherman. C'mon Wauconda, let's look at this from another angle. If it wasn't for Mr. Sherman, Wauconda wouldn't have the numerous crosses that residents and businesses have erected to show our Christian beliefs. Maybe the water tower has lost its cross, but it's gained a beautiful star, the star of Bethlehem. The star that points to the beginning of our faith and the birth of Christ. Mr. Sherman, thank you. Your atheism has not only given us numerous crosses, but a beautiful star. Amen and Merry Christmas to all.

Changed Our Plans, Too

This is to the Lake Villa School District. I am from the Woodland School District and we passed a $14 million building referendum. After passage, the school board also changed the plans. Notice of the change was posted on the school's front door in July when it was closed for construction. Our school's mobile units were also used for the superintendent's offices. Foundations were poured for them, and after the units were moved into place, the walls were removed until nothing was left, except a

Liquor businesses boom for holiday

by HEATHER McDONALD
Lakeland Newspapers

With the rush of the holiday season comes the rush for party preparations and celebration items; more specifically, the "need" for alcohol increases.

Area businesses begin booming as people shop for Christmas presents, baking materials and party favors. Landmark Liquors is no exception.

Mayur Patel, brother-in-law to Landmark Liquors owner Chandu Patel, arranges holiday selections on a shelf.

"Business is picking up," said Chandu Patel, owner of Landmark Liquors on Route 120 just west of Route 83 in Grayslake.

"When it gets close to Christmas, business picks up about 50 percent. Actually, the increase starts the beginning of December. Purchases increase between 15 and 20 percent," he added.

Reason? People buy more hard liquor for mixed drinks and more wines for New Year's Eve parties. But no matter the reason or request, customers get what they want, according to Patel.

"Sometimes we cannot stock all the items because we are a small store," Patel said. "But rarely do people walk out without making a purchase."

"The customer comes first. Sometimes a customer asks for an item we do not have, and we start stocking it so the next time they come in, it is there," he said.

Stocking materials for the Patel family was difficult when they first took over the store a little over a year ago.

No one in the family drinks alcohol.

"In the beginning it was a learning experience because I didn't know (any of the names)," Patel said. "Nobody in the family is a drinker."

But he took over the business because it was family-owned for 10 years, and Patel liked the Grayslake area.

"Business is business," he said. "There is room for expansion because Grayslake is growing. We were looking for some store in this area and the Landmark came along, so we bought the business."

Landmark offers the usual brand name liquors, liqueurs, wines, aperitif and beers. For the holidays and special occasions, they have displays filled with favorites.

Price range for wines are between $3 and $15 per bottle. Liquors are $4 to $25 and up, depending on the type of alcohol and the brand, according to Patel.

Currently, there is a store-wide sale going on, between 15 and 20 percent off on selected alcoholic beverages. Sale beverages change weekly, according to Patel.

Landmark Liquors, so named because it used to be a landmark home, according to Patel, is unique because it is small. It is a hometown store, and because it is family-owned and operated, it brings a sense of family to the customers and service it provides.

"The store started quite a while ago because there wasn't one here (in Grayslake)," Patel said. "We're a neighborhood store, we're local so we get to know our customers. We develop a feel for the person and his tastes and we can better provide them."

Though having owned and operated the business for a mere one-year period, business and customer service are not foreign languages for Patel. He also owns "The Store Next Door" in Mundelein, a convenience store including video rentals, which Patel took over 2 1/2 years ago.

Prior to his working in business, Patel was a medical salesman for 10 years. He said the sales experience helped get him started at the convenient store and the Landmark.

"It's the same kind of customer service," he said. "You have to deal with people and provide the customer with what they want in the best possible manner."

"That is our emphasis. You must have friendly people who like to help others. The customer must come first."

Sometimes pleasing a customer may be difficult when customers change. But Patel said the change is minimal, so he knows what his customers want and he can provide for them.

Though most of the Landmark's customers are local patrons, Patel said some business comes from Round Lake areas and McHenry.

Do they come for the "hot drinks" that seem to pop up around the holidays each year? Patel does not think so.

"There aren't really any 'hot drinks' this year," he said. "I don't really know of any popular items. But we do sell more whiskeys and rum."

"We're just very friendly and we keep a clean store. We are very helpful."

Because the holiday season seems to bring out more drunk drivers, or people with a tendency to drink and drive, Patel said he wants to help promote safety as well as his business.

One method Patel has of encouraging safety is giving away a half-pound of coffee with every $25 purchase. Patel said there are donuts and coffee cakes for purchase, too.

The store also offers grocery items such as soda-pop, potato chips, milk, butter and bread, among others.

Store hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays, and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sundays.

Gander completes financing package

Wilmot—Gander Mountain the catalog/retailer of outdoor sporting goods, has completed a financing package with three banks totaling $50 million to fund expansion of its catalog and retail businesses.

The package consists of a revolving credit facility of $30 million for working capital purposes and a term facility of $20 million for capital expenditures. Both notes are priced at variable rates tied to either prime or LIBOR.

Theodore Schultz, vice president and chief financial officer, indicated that the package was structured to provide the financing necessary to fund retail store expansion, development of new management information systems, and construction of added warehouse and office facilities. With the favorable interest rates environment, bank financing provided the most flexible alternative to the company, added Schultz.

The company will use the working capital financing to fund the inventory necessary for retail and catalog growth. The company currently had five retail stores and a catalog distribution center in Wisconsin. The term loan will fund the infra-structure development in state-of-the-art computer systems and facilities necessary for the projected retail and catalog growth.

Bank receives four-star rating

Round Lake—Lakeland Community Bank in Round Lake Heights, has once again been awarded Bauer Financial Reports' four-star rating. This prestigious award ranks Lakeland Community Bank high for safety, strength and performance. The rating is based on the analysis of June 30, 1992 financial data as filed with federal regulators.

A four-star rating indicates that Lakeland Community Bank's adjusted tangible capital is between six percent and nine percent of tangible assets, its risk-based capital ratio exceeds 8.85 percent that there are no excessive delinquencies or repossessed assets and that Lakeland Community Bank posted a profit in the second quarter 1992. For comparison purposes, the capital requirements for Bauer's four-star rating are significantly higher than those required by federal regulators.

Taxes! what taxes?

by R. MIDDLETON
and J. MONTGOMERY

One of our favorite clients, Frank, came in recently for an estate planning conference. Frank, recently divorced with two small children, had a substantial estate in excess of $2 million, but it was tied up in his business.

We spent about an hour with Frank, his insurance agent, his accountant, and a business appraiser while the four professionals in the room discussed Frank's "need" for a $1 million life insurance policy.

Frank finally brought the discussion to a halt by asking: "Why do I 'need' $1 million when I die?"

He was shocked to discover that his estate would need about $1 million to pay estate taxes. The business that he had spent 20 years building up would only go to his children after the IRS took its share.

Any estate planner has to help the client to be aware of—and to plan for—several taxes that can substantially reduce the amounts the client's family will receive. These taxes are:

Income and capital gains tax. Almost all of our clients have heard of these taxes—largely because we file annual income tax returns. The income tax affects almost all Americans—and changes, or suggested changes to the tax rate and structure are always widely reported—especially in an election year.

These taxes are imposed on earned income and investment income—including the "gain" when investment property is sold at a profit. Income tax is also assessed against amounts withdrawn from retirement plans (because those amounts were not subjected to income tax earlier). Currently income taxes are imposed at rates ranging from 15-34 percent plus 3 percent state tax. Capital gains taxes currently are "capped" at 28 percent.

Gift tax and Estate tax. These are two different taxes, but they are discussed together because they are "unified taxes"—that is the rates are the same. These taxes are imposed on a person who transfers property to another—either by a lifetime gift or by a transfer taking place at death. These taxes are imposed at an effective rate ranging from 37-55 percent.

Excess accumulations tax. This is a tax imposed when the government decides that you have "too much" in your retirement plans. Usually, in estate planning this tax comes into play as a tax—in addition to the estate tax—imposed after death on "excess" amounts in qualified plans and IRAs. This tax is

15 percent. (You should know that the excess accumulations tax is only one of four taxes imposed on amounts in qualified plans and IRA: the "too soon, too late, too little, too great" taxes range from 15 to 50 percent.)

Note also that all of these taxes can be imposed on the same asset—for example, a very large IRA can be subjected to income tax, estate tax and excess accumulations tax—until it becomes a small IRA.

Consistent with your estate planning wishes, the estate planner must keep an eye on all of these taxes in helping you decide what transfers to make, and what documents to draw to assist you in avoiding, deferring, and minimizing the taxes imposed. The estate planner should also help you to make plans to pay these taxes to the extent the taxes cannot be avoided or deferred.

Editor's note: Robert O. Middleton and Janet Montgomery are attorneys concentrating in tax planning for individuals and closely-held businesses with the Chicago law firm of Nisen & Elliott. Both are members of the Chicago Estate Planning Council. They are part of the panel of financial experts preparing This Way to Wealth. Your questions are invited by writing to This Way to Wealth in care of this paper or to 2203B Lakeside Drive, Bannockburn, Ill. 60015.

Strictly for Seniors

Given proper care, a healthy smile can stay beautiful for a lifetime

By the year 2020, an estimated one-fourth of the nation—more than 50 million Americans—will be at least 65.

Advances in every area of health care—including dentistry—have enabled Americans to live longer and be healthier than ever before.

Tooth loss is not inevitable. People lose their teeth to disease, injury and neglect. Teeth are meant to last a lifetime and, with proper oral hygiene and regular dental visits, they can.

One of the major oral health problems today is the range of periodontal diseases that afflict the gums and other structures that support the teeth.

Periodontal diseases are responsible for about 70 percent of all adult tooth loss. Affecting at least three out of four people over the age of 35, these diseases often progress slowly and painlessly over a long period of time. So seniors are definitely at risk.

Periodontal diseases are caused by plaque, a sticky, colorless film that forms constantly on the teeth.

The bacteria in plaque produce acids that can irritate the gums and, over a period of time, seriously damage the structures that support the teeth.

There are several warning signs that may indicate presence of periodontal diseases:

- Gums that bleed easily;
- Red, swollen or tender gums;
- Gums that have pulled away from the teeth;
- Pus exuding between the teeth and gums when the gums are pressed;
- Persistent bad breath or bad taste;
- Permanent teeth that are loose or separating;
- Changes in the way your teeth fit together when you bite;
- Changes in the fit of dentures or other dental appliances.

If you have any of these symptoms, see your dentist immediately. The sooner periodontal diseases are diagnosed, the better the chance for successful treatment.

Tooth decay affects people of all ages—including seniors. The nature of the problem, however, changes in later years.

Most children's cavities occur on the biting surfaces of the back teeth, where food and bacteria easily collect. But, for people over 50 two out of every three cavities occur around the edges of old fillings.

Root caries are another type of tooth decay common in older adults. As gums recede, tooth roots become exposed and susceptible to decay. About 70 percent of people over age 60 have root caries, which should be treated by a dentist.

Xerostomia, or dry mouth, a condition of reduced saliva production and severe oral dryness, often contributes to tooth decay in older adults.

Saliva lubricates the mouth, washes food away from the teeth and neutralizes acids that can cause decay.

Xerostomia is a side effect of more than 200 frequently prescribed drugs. If you think you may have xerostomia, consult your dentist, who may recommend use of artificial saliva and a fluoride mouthrinse.

What should seniors do to maintain oral health? It's not difficult. There are just a few steps to take:

- Brush thoroughly at least once a day, alter meals whenever possible.

- Floss thoroughly once a day.

- Eat a balanced diet and limit snacks between meals, especially sticky foods that cling to the teeth.

- At least once a day, use a fluoride toothpaste approved by the American Dental Association.

Fluoride toothpaste is recommended for all ages, not just children.

Adults should also use fluoride toothpaste routinely to help reduce both tooth root and tooth crown decay.

Millions of Americans wear dentures, but their need for dental care does not stop. The mouth is a living, constantly changing organ, so dentures that fit well at first may need professional adjustment later.

Only a dentist can assure the proper fit of dentures and the continuing health of mouth tissues.

Taking medicine the easy way

Health care professionals say that there are many reasons people don't take their medicine. Some are forgetful; others dislike the flavor; and for still others, the medicine's delivery system, or form, makes it difficult to take. These concerns may seem to be minor, but they can significantly affect the likelihood that patients will take their recommended dosage.

These days, however, you don't need a spoonful of sugar to help the medicine go down. Through advanced technology, the pharmaceutical industry is now producing an array of revolutionary new forms to suit almost everyone's needs. For example: there are patches now available that are simply placed on the skin for people trying to quit smoking and who are uncomfortable with the taste or texture of prescription chewing gum.

There's also good news for stomach problem sufferers who complain about the taste of traditional stomach antacid remedies. New technology has been used to produce Mylanta Gelcaps, an entirely new form of antacid which is swallowable and non-chalky.

With so many options, here are some helpful hints to help you get the most out of medicine:

- Look for new products. Look around for new products and new technologies on the shelves that make taking medicine easier to swallow.

- Talk to your doctor or pharmacist. Ask your health care professional about the availability of different flavors or forms. If you must take medicine with an unappealing taste, find out if you can take it with a food you like.

- Be a good patient. If you find you're not taking your medicine, don't be embarrassed to tell your doctor or pharmacist. Let them help you find another way to administer your medicine.

Winter Rec guide

Be prepared...before storm strikes

At home and at work

Primary concerns are the potential loss of heat, power, telephone service, and a shortage of supplies if storm conditions continue for more than a day.

Have available:

- Flashlight and extra batteries.
- Battery-powered NOAA Weather Radio and portable radio to receive emergency information. These may be your only links to the outside.
- Extra food and water. High energy food, such as dried fruit or candy, and food requiring no cooking or refrigeration is best.
- Extra medicine and baby items.
- First-aid supplies.
- Heating fuel. Fuel carriers may not reach you for days after a severe winter storm.
- Emergency heating source, such as a fireplace, wood stove, space heater, etc.
- learn to use properly to prevent a fire.
- have proper ventilation.
- Fire extinguisher and smoke detector.
- test units regularly

to ensure they are working properly.

On the farm

•Move animals to sheltered areas. Shelter belts, properly laid out and oriented, are better protection for cattle than confining shelters, such as sheds.

•Haul extra feed to nearby feeding areas.

•Have a water supply available. Most animal deaths in winter storms are from dehydration.

In cars and trucks

Plan your travel and check the latest weather reports to avoid the storm.

•Fully check and winterize your vehicle before the winter season begins.

•Carry a winter storm survival kit:

Blankets, sleeping bags, flashlight with extra batteries, first-aid kit, knife, high-calorie, non-perishable food, extra clothing to keep dry, a large empty can and plastic cover with tissues and paper towels for sanitary purposes.

A small can and water-proof matches to melt snow for drinking water, sack of sand (or cat litter), shovel, windshield scraper and brush, tool kit, tow rope, booster cables, water container, compass and road maps.

•Keep your gas tank

near full to avoid ice in the tank and fuel lines.

•Try not to travel alone.

•Let someone know your timetable and primary and alternate routes. Dress to fit the season.

Wear loose-fitting, light-weight, warm clothing in several layers. Trapped air insulates. Layers can be removed to avoid perspiration and subsequent chill. Outer garments should be tightly woven, water repellent, and hooded.

Wear a hat. Half your body heat loss can be from the head. Cover your mouth to protect your lungs from extreme cold.

How to plan a responsible holiday party

A responsible party is any gathering where the host/hostess and guests are concerned with the safety and health of all guests. As the host or hostess, this responsibility is great, but can be done easily by following a few guidelines. The most important guideline to remember is to make it easy for the drivers to not drink alcohol. Remember, the main purpose of a party is togetherness, not drinking. Prevention Services/InTouch suggests the following guidelines.

Greet your guests with a friendly "Who's driving home?" or "Who's the designated driver?" Tell them you want them to have a good time and arrive home safely. Encourage the designated driver to stay alcohol free and provide a variety of non-alcoholic beverages.

Accent food and fun, not drinking. Offer low-salt, high protein foods.

Feature a choice of attractive "Special" non-alcoholic drinks for those who choose to be alcohol free. And for attending youth for whom alcohol is illegal.

Control the alcohol. The server does not serve to those that are under the age of 21.

Keep your guests socializing. Play games, music, sing holiday carols, share favorite holiday stories, etc.

Prevention Services/InTouch is a wellness program offered through the partnership of the Lake County Health Dept., the Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse and the College of Lake County. For more information on hosting a safe party, call 223-6363.

The Blue Bay offering holiday spirit, great food

The big balloon snowman on the roof will tell you the folks at the Blue Bay Family Restaurant are ready to offer some good holiday cheer — and, of course, great food at great prices.

"We'd like to wish everybody happy holidays," said Blue Bay owner John Papaioannou. The Blue Bay is located at 855 E. Rollins Rd. (Round Lake Commons).

John has put together just the right combination of breakfasts, lunches, dinners and dessert treats to keep satisfied customers coming back for nearly seven years.

The Blue Bay offers great-tasting food and prices that fit into a big-family budget. Kids can eat cheaply from the large children's menu, which offers several wholesome choices. And, senior citizens are encouraged to take advantage of Blue Bay's discounts.

Start the day off with selections from the extensive breakfast list. Several variations of steak and eggs are big favorites, as well as all the other omelettes and egg dishes. The pancakes, crepes and Belgian waffles are second to none. Egg Beaters are available as a substitute, and the Blue Bay prides itself in using Oscar Meyer meat products.

Later in the day, try one of the deluxe sandwiches, which come complete with soup and fries. The huge sandwich menu goes from big burgers to gyros the Francheezie Deluxe.

Dinners include soup and salad, dessert and a beverage. Steak, chicken and seafood and Italian and Greek entrees are offered for your dining delight. Some specialties are baby beef liver, veal cutlets and the gyros plate.

There's also a complete list of croissant sandwiches and refreshing salads.

If you still have room after that big meal, the Blue Bay will tempt you with creamy concoctions from its fountain or homemade pastries. The Blue Bay has four different varieties of cheese cake.

The Blue Bay is open from 5 a.m. until midnight weekdays. During the weekends, it's open 24 hours.

The Blue Bay will be open until midnight Christmas Eve but close at 3 p.m. Christmas Day. They'll open again at 5 a.m. Dec. 26.

Major credit cards, including Visa, Mastercard and Discover are welcome.

Confessions of a shopping mall Santa

by MARK PAIN

To preface this story for you, the whole thing was aimed at overcoming a bleak financial condition during the holidays.

'Tis the season to be jolly, especially when unemployment benefits and the wife run out at the same time. Economic and emotional discouragement are exacting presents...provided that Santa Claus has become a malicious comedian in his old age.

"Well, how would you like to be Santa? Can you deal with kids for ten hours straight every day, during the next four weeks? You don't even have to give us a social security number; you follow?"

No one escapes the Spanish Inquisition and Ol' Torquemada owned an advertising agency with lucrative mall contracts for the Christmas season.

His proposal brought heady considerations to weigh: should I acquiesce and accept a job that will beat the government out of withholding taxes? Can I sit for a long, long time? Should I ask a housewife about handling kids for ten hours? Do I need the money?

Given my circumstances, the idea almost borders on morbid irony. Why not? Do it—they can only fire me.

The grand unveiling came on the Saturday following Thanksgiving, with Cookie the Clown as the shill. The mall's rotunda was packed with kids screaming at magic tricks, parents screaming at high prices, and me—escorted by a phalanx of brooding security guards to the dressing area.

"Quit bellyachin', there's no warrants...put this on and hurry up."

The man had a dour face, not unlike one to be found in a Shaker community, as he handed over a rag-tag red suit. The beard and wig were too floppy...no one's going to fall for this get-up.

"Hey, c'mon—this is your cue, get over here." As if conjured from some deep recess came the repeated choruses, led by Cookie.

"He has to be around here. Santa. Santa Claus. SANTA CLAUS!!"

The glue stunk like a dead gelding, the mustache wouldn't stick and the beard swayed with each hand waving gesture in walking to the stage. Cookie took one lookie and still couldn't keep from laughing.

"Gosh, Santa, you really look disheveled and tired. It was a long trip from the North Pole, huh? Was it rough getting ready for this trip?"

"Br'er Cookie, you have no idea...trust me, ho-ho-ho, you have no idea. Glad to see all my little friends, though. Merry Christmas!!"

Then, the mustache drooped below my lip. Cookie lost it, just like on television. Have you ever watched "Bozo's Circus," when the comedy skit is so stupid that they can't keep from mugging at the camera, break up the routine with ad-libbing asides and everything becomes an inside joke? Well, here was Cookie leading me by the arm to a small gazebo to meet the minions, unable to contain himself.

"You need to sit down, Santa."

And now, tales from the chair.

It was a horde, an unending onslaught and no mercy. "Mommy doesn't want me to have it, but I want a Chatty-Cathy with moveable hips and a Malibu Barbie; does Ken have a dark tan—did you make him that way."

I suddenly became a back-order wholesale warehouse distributor. What are you going to say to a kid looking at you with big blue eyes that show an even bigger blue belief in your personage.

"Why, of course, ho-ho-ho. Were you a good girl this year?"

I imagined the wife on my lap and asking her the same question, with my hands around her throat.

"Yes, Santa, very good."

Oh, a Republican, eh?

"Then, ho-ho-ho, I see no reason why you shouldn't get what's best for you."

The moment of truth came with the Hispanic boy.

"You ain't no Santa Claus. That's a fake beard and I'm not believing you."

"Okay, kid. You got me, but look...help me out here. I don't know Spanish and I don't want to disappoint kids. Gimme a break; listen, how do you say "what's your name" and "what do you want for Christmas?"

A murmur of discontent was heard from the waiting crowd, as he quietly began coaching me through a phonetic pronunciation of the desired passages. After he left, the major test came.

"Ola, ola, ho-ho-ho uh, wohl-estra numre?"

"Esperanza."

"Ah-h-h. Que too keras para Navidad?"

I could only nod in time with her words, there were so many gifts she wanted, many for her parents (I'm not that limited.) She was actually trusting these things to me, with a glint in her eyes that gave goose-bumps. This is the Christmas spirit. This is what makes it all worthwhile, almost to the point of crying. She wouldn't quit and in looking up for a brief instant, parents standing in line were all smiles and blinking with misty eyes.

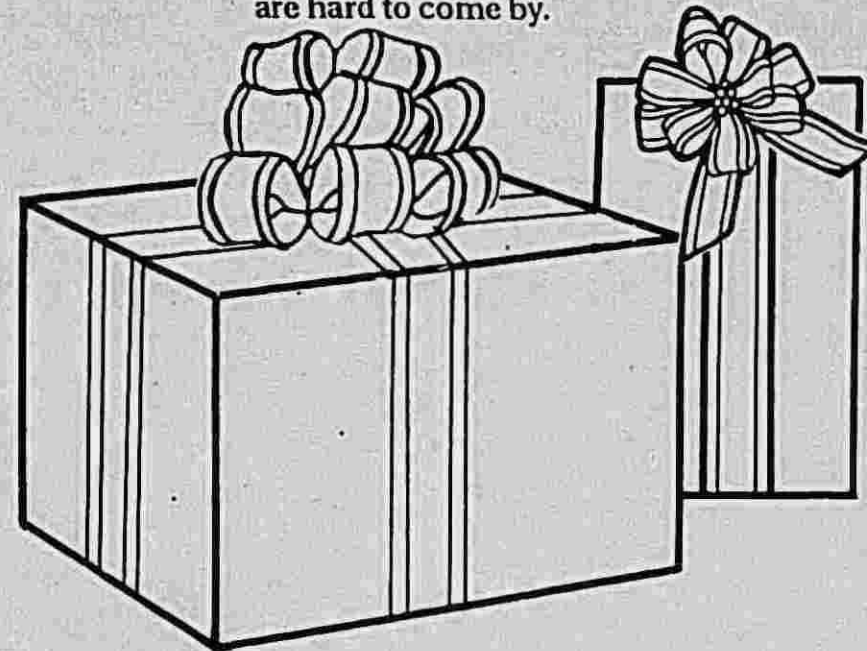

I don't deserve this—it's all humbug, I tell you. Venture to waste another one of my coals and...

"Gracias, Santa Claus."

Aww, Gees. With that, the little lady got up and walked over to her parents to give them a big hug. The first dope who says Christmas isn't for kids will be summarily chased by me and my Blazer, with the lockouts set on four-wheel drive.

Hey, I'll admit it—I almost missed it. Christmas is a time to cherish, hope for better things and give it to the children. Kids'll tell the truth on you, they demand it in return. Are you going to deny it to them?

For once, God smiled on me and let me share dreams with those who deserve some attention. At this time of year, that attention will give you the spirit. Don't pass it up...blessings are hard to come by.

'Alone 2' repeat of 'Alone 1'

Every big pic smash has to have a least one sequel. 'Tis the law of Hollywood and the big money boys who hope to garner more green with the same idea, adding barely a new twist or two to merit your $6.50.

So of course, the biggest moneymaker of last year, "Home Alone," has to do a repeat, and repeat it is.

The story is basically the same: That precocious multimillionaire, Macaulay Culkin gets separated from his family at Christmas time and guess what? The same two burglars, Joe Pesci and Daniel Stern show up to harass him.

Macaulay Culkin

This time, the rather opulent large family is heading to Florida for the holidays and they and Culkin get separated at O'Hare Airport. The family goes south and Culkin heads for New York City.

The film moves along nicely at this point and then Pesci and Stern show-up and Culkin continues to inflict what should be fatal injuries upon them in an effort to escape their clutches.

We read that the medical care that would be required for the injuries that Pesci and Stern would suffer in real life would bankrupt most insurance companies. But hey, this is film land, not real life.

And here we have the crux of the problem. Kids will enjoy this picture (It's rated "PG," despite all the violence). Parents just might accompany their darlings and explain the extent of the injuries that beset our two hapless villains if they were to occur in real life, just in case younger brother decides that he might hit little sister in the face with a pipe when she irritates him. After all, Stern and Pesci toss this little trick aside like they were hit by a cotton ball.

The movie has its seasonal pluses. We rate it three out of five stars. Why not wait and see it on video, if you must see it?—by GLORIA DAVIS

Explore life's many paradoxes at Apple Tree Theatre

Critics Choice

"The Search for Signs of Intelligent Life in the Universe" is a thoughtful one-woman play originally written by Jane Wagner for Lily Tomlin.

But actress Peggy Roeder, in a commanding performance, easily makes it her own in the current Apple Tree Theater production in Highland Park.

The two-hour show whizzes by as Roeder works her way through a whirlwind portrayal of 12 different but connected characters, from a wacko Chicago bag lady to a bellicose teenage performance artist to her grandparents, Lud and Marie.

The "search" explores life's many paradoxes and anomalies through the eyes of various character types, from a disillusioned feminist/career, woman/mother/wife, to a rape victim to a pair of prostitutes.

As Trudy, the Kafka-quoting homeless woman who wears her wig inside out (to keep it clean) and communes with aliens as she searches for a "eureka" experience, Roeder graphically shows what a fine line it is that separates the nutty from the truly intelligent as she discovers the merits of enjoying life's mystery more than fretting over its meaning.

Wagner's play contains many thought-provoking passages and a solid dose of commonsense wit. Her various personae worry about false hopes, dying of boredom and how to grow skin thick enough they can peel onions all day without shedding a tear.

"Search for Signs of Intelligent Life" continues through Jan. 3. Ticket information is available at 432-4335.—by TOM WITOM

Europe By Rail

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

A great race recently took place in Germany. The starting point was the city center of Frankfurt, with the finish line in Stuttgart, some 100 miles away. The contestants were a plane, a car, a motorcycle and a train. The plane was a fast six passenger charter, with travel to the city center from the airport factored in. The car and the motorcycle traveled on the Autobahn with no speed limit. The train traveled its normal route stopping at all stations.

The train, one of Germany's new ICE InterCity Express, won by over 20 minutes!

It's not just the speed of Europe's trains that make them the choice of travel. Convenience, price and comfort all help.

Miss the train from Brussels to Paris? Don't worry. There's 10 more to choose from. Going from Amsterdam to Cologne? With 12 departures daily, one should fit into your schedule. Trains depart Geneva and arrive in Paris 5 times daily and take less than 3 1/2 hours.

Going from one big city to another is not why I travel by train in Europe, though. Rather, it's the ability to reach the smallest town or hamlet by train, some of which are almost impossible to get to by road.

Overnight train travel can also save you time and the cost of a hotel room. Sleeper accommodations run anywhere from private compartments with comfortable beds and washstand to a bunk, called a Couchette, stacked three high in a public compartment.

Most travelers have heard of the Eurail pass, which is still a bargain at $430 for 15 days or $680 for an entire month. However, if you are visiting only one or two countries and your trip is less than two weeks, look into the various country passes. France, for instance, offers a pass good for travel any 4 days within a month for only $125. Germany's $160 pass is good for any five days in a month.

If you feel you must experience driving Europe (ah yes, the Autobahn), there are many types of Rail 'N Drive passes. For instance, the German Rail 'N Drive pass gives you 5 days of rail travel and 3 days car rental for about $199.

'Heidi' heartwarming musical at Marriott's

In the spirit of Johanna Spyri's timeless classic, Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre for Young Audiences presents their heartwarming musical adaptation of the beloved story of Heidi through Jan. 8.

The performance schedule includes shows most weekdays at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. and Saturdays at 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Individual tickets are $5.50 and are available along with an exact schedule by calling the Box Office at 634-0200. Group tickets are also available.

Willy Wonka

The Papai Players welcome you and the entire family to share in a delicious adventure with "Charlie & the Chocolate Factory" being performed at Cutting Hall, 150 Wood Street in Palatine through Jan. 2.

Performance times are 10:30 a.m., Wed. Nov. 11; Sat. Nov. 14; Mon. Dec. 28; Tues. Dec. 29 and Wed. Dec., 30. On Nov. 18, the performance is at 10 a.m. Dec. 27 the show begins at 2 p.m.

Ticket price is $5. Reservations are requested by calling 359-9556.

The "Charlie" cast includes twelve adult professional performers from the greater Chicagoland area who will portray spoiled brats, greedy, naughty children and "oompa loompa" elves who because of their misbehavior eventually turn into a blueberry, tumble into a chocolate river or meet with some strange fate. These characters enjoy tormenting and distracting the benevolent, but slightly bizarre, Willy Wonka who because of his passionate love of chocolate, ingeniously invents secret recipes for the delicious chocolate "wonka bars" and "everlasting gobstopppers." The good-hearted Charlie, in the end, gets to enjoy the rewards from discovering the last of the five "golden tickets." —by RHONDA VINZANT metal frame. The inside and outside walls were completely rebuilt, as was the roof. In reality, the mobile units were thrown away and this permanent structure was built. The school board presented the community with a plan; we approved and funded that plan. But to the school board's thinking, they were given a $14 million blank check to build as they pleased. Two months ago, the school board voted $40,000 of furniture for the superintendent's office from this referendum money. The sad part is that the school board is negatively affecting the future referendums this district will need to pass to house children from new developments.

Just Fine II

I'm responding to the Lipservice "We're Just Fine." I'm an Antioch High School graduate and I think that our school is just fine, too. It's just like any other school. You learn what you want to learn and take the classes you want to take. It's not that we're stupid or anyone at Antioch is stupid. I think it's just that some people are ignorant of other schools. Antioch is a darn good school. We don't need stress in Antioch.

Crosses Not For Everybody

This is in response to the person in Vernon Hills who likes the crosses in Wauconda and would like to see them in Vernon Hills. What you need to remember is that not everybody reveres the cross or celebrates Christmas. It's wonderful if you do and you want it in your home. However, you have no right to impose that upon people of other religions.

Undeserved Credit For Bob

This is a call from Wadsworth, Illinois. Bulldozer Bob of county board fame is now claiming he is an environmental giant because the county purchased 1,400 acres during the past two years. All that land was in the pipeline by the Graham administration. Depke couldn't have stopped it even if he wanted to.

Outrage Over Gambling

I'd like to voice my outrage about the meeting I just came from in Fox Lake about the gambling issue in Fox Lake and Lake County. It's going to be a disaster. The county wants all of the 5 percent revenues and nothing for the small towns and villages. Why was the meeting even held in Fox Lake if Fox Lake isn't going to share in the revenue? People weren't even allowed to voice their opinions until one woman got up and asked what was going on. The other issue is this: Are the boats going to be accessible to the handicapped? If not, why not?

Kids Ain't No Picnic

I'm calling from Mundelein and I'm responding to call "Women Want Just One Thing." I've got news. Bearing children is not a party. Women who want men that are financially stable are just watching out for the future of them and their families, or because they entered the relationship being financially stable. Please get a clue.

Gunholders Are Americans

This is in response to the Round Lake mother who wanted to know the number of guns in the school and the nationality of those who had the guns. I would suspect all of the students are American, unless they have a lot of non-citizens going to school there. I'm tired of hearing about nationality. We are all Americans.

New Tanning Laws

I'm the owner of a tanning salon in Vernon Hills and I have to disagree with most of the new laws regarding indoor tanning facilities. First of all, I can agree with the new law that no children under the age of 14 are allowed to use tanning booths. However, the new law also states that persons between the ages of 14 and 17 may only go to a tanning facility with the permission of a parent. I think that any 16 or 17 year old is mature enough to decide if he or she should go to a tanning booth. When 17-year-old girl or boy needs permission, the note will most probably be forged. Also, another law states that customers will be limited to one tanning session every 24 hours. Even though I agree with that, I don't think that there will be enforcement of this law. If somebody wants to go to a tanning salon once or twice a day, he or she will do it. Enforcement is the key factor of these laws; you can forget that it will be enforced.

Benefits In The Water

Riverboat gambling, if approved will be a big plus for the county. More money, more tourists, more sales tax. There will be numerous benefits, but only one drawback — more scummy slime people will come to the area. If the price for tickets and gambling were high enough, you'll only get people who can afford the new venture.

Piece Of The Action

The only thing I want for Christmas this year is peace. Actually, what I want is a "piece of the action" that the county board will not give to its residents when riverboat gambling comes to Lake County. Local municipalities need the money more than the county government. Why can't we have the money? If the county has it, you can forget about accountability.

Happy Holidays, Everyone

I would like to wish a Merry Christmas and Happy Holiday season to all you Lipservice readers. Through this column, we have learned a little, laughed a little, saw the idiocy and the wit, and became outraged at times. It's a little like life, isn't it? Have a great Christmas! I'll read from all of you next year.

Getting Back On Track

Now that the packages are open and the bows are on the floor, let's take a minute to look back on the "recession" we are in. Retail sales are sky high. There is no recession. All of the layoffs are just a ploy. The economy is in better-than-ever shape. Let's start rehiring these people and get the rest of America on track.

Punishing Guilty

The students from Libertyville should be ashamed of themselves. I know that this group is not representative of the entire student body, but forming this group was a terrible idea and should have never gotten as far as it did. I say that the students should be punished to the greatest extent of the law.

High-Pressure Sales

I am sick and tired of telephone sales calls and pushy salespeople. I had nearly bought something I didn't need, even before I had realized what I was doing. Salespeople should stop concentrating high-pressure sales on the senior citizens. Thank you.

Personal values and traditions tend to shape and mold our way of life. As time goes by, it is only natural that we should be mindful of the past while planning for the future. With the passing of time, we become more aware of the importance of planning ahead. While the preplanning of a funeral is not something that we choose to think about, it deserves our consideration and careful thought. Quigley named to head county's solid waste agency

The Solid Waste Agency has hired its second of Lake County, by a unanimous vote of 19-0, H. Quigley from Fairfax County, Va.

In making the announcement, Bob Depke, chairman of SWALCO's board of directors, expressed his delight at Quigley's appointment.

"I think Mr. Quigley will work out well for Lake County. He brings with him a solid background in solid waste management. He is a very personable individual and I think he is truly excited about moving here and helping us get the plan implemented."

Quigley was chosen from eight applicants from six states. The search was conducted for SWALCO by Paul Reaume, president of the PAR Group, an executive search firm based in Lake Bluff.

Depke praised the work of the SWALCO executive committee that conducted the interview process and recommended Quigley to the full board.

"The executive committee spent long hours, including a weekend in this, the second director hiring process we've been through this year.

Quigley is director of the Line Maintenance Division for the Fairfax County Public Works Dept., a position he has held since July 1987. Prior to this position, he was deputy director of the Fairfax County Solid Waste Division.

"He is a thoughtful, mature leader who will listen. He will work well with all Lake County citizens who are interested in having a disposal system that is environmentally safe and economically affordable," Depke added.

Donald Findell, the agency's first executive director, resigned in October to relocate to Florida to care for his ailing mother. Findell was with SWALCO only seven months. Since then Bill Barron had served as interim executive director.

SWALCO is a governmental agency that implements the Lake County Solid Waste Management Plan.

Strictly for Seniors

Older Americans see lifestyles shift, interests continue to expand

Senior citizens make up one of the fastest growing segments of the population in the United States. According to the U.S. Census Bureau, by the year 2050, more than 67 million people—one out of every five in the United States—will be 65 or older. The prospects for their continued good health, activity, vitality and long life are vastly better than commonly portrayed. Seniors see themselves as more physically and mentally active than younger groups.

New desires, needs and lifestyles arise as most people grow older. Many choose retirement after a certain age, but many older workers prefer part-time jobs or phased retirement.

However, retirement is something many look forward to as an opportunity to pursue activities that were pushed aside due to a lack of free time.

Now is an excellent time to pursue travel plans and explore the world and all it has to offer. Whether it be the history of the Kremlin or the Cajun cooking of Louisiana, the possibilities to explore an unseen territory are endless.

New opportunities

Often, while you're in the work force, there is little time for philanthropies, although many people have good intentions of promoting human welfare. There are plenty of organizations always in desperate need of volunteers, and the rewards are far greater than strictly monetary.

Volunteers are also needed in such places as museums, libraries and day care centers, just to name a few options. There are many opportunities to remain active in the community. With a little research, you are sure to find your niche.

Enjoy other involvements

Hobbies that have been neglected in the past can be rekindled or a new activity begun. Or, catch up on all those movies, plays or books you've been too busy for in the past.

Education is a never-ending experience in life. Enrolling in a local college or community classes can be a great learning experience. It is never too late to get a degree, learn a different language, or master an art or craft.

Share expertise

Experience is something accumulated over the years that is personal—there are no short cuts. These experiences can be shared through the teaching of others, whether they are five or 95 years old. Don't be modest about your ability to pass on your different areas of expertise and knowledge to other people.

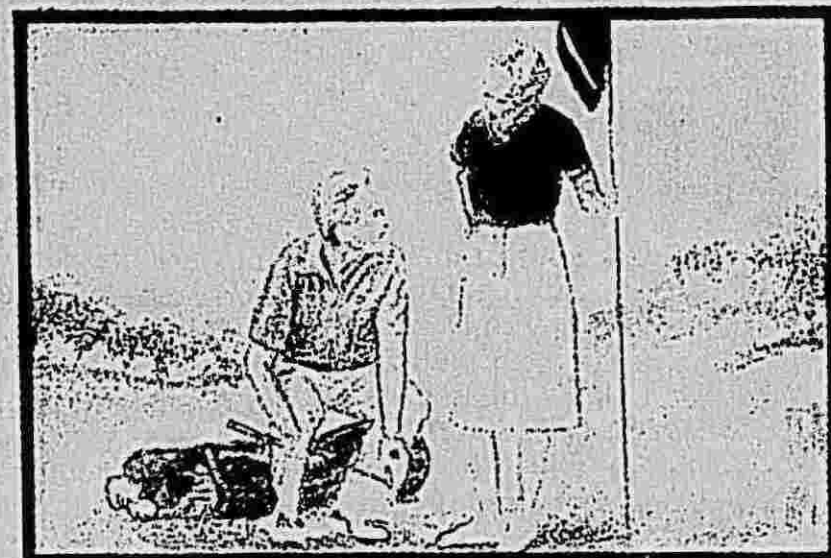

There is an activity for everyone which will bring pleasure and, quite possibly, the rewards of giving of yourself and your time. If the placid life is not for you, there is no reason not to get involved!

Certainly, you must seek out the action and not expect the excitement to look for you. However, this is not an unrealistic goal for most. Making yourself available can help fill up your schedule with all sorts of activities.

Flexibility a positive factor

As lifestyles change, embrace this change of pace to do things as they suit you. The later years in life should be filled with activity and leisure time spent at your discretion.

Fiber, fitness aids to graceful aging

One key to enjoying a healthy, productive later life is to follow a lifelong program of personal health care practices to delay the effects of aging.

This program should include proper nutrition and exercise, avoidance of environmental hazards such as smoking and exposure to the sun, early recognition and treatment of disease, and disease prevention.

Adequate fiber intake throughout life is one way to stay healthy as we age. The fiber found in whole grain cereals, fruits and vegetables is essential for normal bowel motility and function. A daily intake of about 30 grams of fiber also may help prevent certain age-prevalent diseases such as constipation, hemorrhoids, diverticulosis and gall bladder problems.

Recent data suggest that sufficient fiber in the diet also may lower ones chances of developing colon cancer, hypercholesterolemia (high blood sugar).

Fiber is thought to protect against colon cancer by detoxifying carcinogens, shortening the time toxins stay in the intestine, and cleansing the intestinal walls by removing abnormal cells that may have accumulated.

Fibrous foods that appear to offer protection against these diseases include cabbage, broccoli, Brussels sprouts and cauliflower.

Unfortunately, many persons are accustomed to diets high in refined sugars and low in fiber.

An active lifestyle and an individualized exercise program help keep food moving through the intestines and help ensure regular bowel movement. However, for older Americans, insufficient fiber, lack of exercise and inadequate liquid intake can result in constipation. Too often, people respond by reaching for a stimulant or other chemical laxative—a habit that ultimately can lead to laxative dependency.

If sufficient fiber cannot be obtained through the diet, an acceptable alternative is bulk-forming agent, considered by the U.S. Food and Drug Admin. to be one of the safest types of laxative.

Fiber is important to maintaining good health as we age, but it must be part of a total program. It's never too late to start a lifelong program.

Exiting the fat track

It started on Halloween with all that candy lying around the house. It was aggravated at Thanksgiving, when you lived on leftover stuffing and gravy for a week. Every week after that there was eggnog, cookies, a little too much champagne until one day you're Christmas shopping and catch a glimpse of some familiar-looking chubby person in a store video monitor. You look again. Uh-oh. That's you.

Well, you'll continue on this course through the holidays, but come Jan. 2, you're resolving to shape up.

Experts agree that the first thing you should do is get a physical check-up. After that you're ready for a diet and exercise program.

"You can't separate diet and exercise. Neither is as effective as both together," said Dave Jahn, exercise physiologist at Condell's Centre Club in Libertyville.

The single most important positive change you can make in your diet if you want to lose weight is to cut down on fats.

"Most Americans eat way too much fat; if you can get them to cut down on fat, you'll solve 80 percent of the problem," said Jahn.

Nutritionist Lisa Matthews of the Centre Club said the average American diet is about 43 percent fat, but it should be about 25 percent fat. Carbohydrates should account for 50 to 60 percent of the diet and the rest should be protein.

Foods high in carbohydrates are fruits, vegetables, rice, pasta, cereals, breads and beans.

Carbohydrates have less than half the calories per gram than fats, so just by increasing carbohydrates and decreasing fats, a person could lose weight. "You can eat the same amount of food, or even more and still lose weight because of the density," said Jahn.

Matthews said it's important to keep records of what you're eating and to count fat grams. A lot of food labels already give nutritional information. With the new federal labeling law which goes into effect this spring, counting fat grams will be easier.

Matthews warned that many foods don't seem fatty, but have hidden fats. She warned that muffins can be very high in fat, dried pancake mixes have dried fat, and margarine is 100 percent fat just like butter.

Counting fat grams is more important than counting calories, said Matthews. "You have to keep a perspective on calories, but fat is where it's at," she said.

The other side of the coin in a weight loss program is exercise. Fitness instructors say beginners should start out slow with a low-intensity cardiovascular workout such as walking, bicycling, or low-impact aerobics.

"We don't want someone to go full pace the first day and then wake up the next day and not be able to get out of bed," said Mark Maciejewski of Chandler's Family Fitness Center in Lindenhurst.

Jahn said it's important for people just starting out in an exercise program to be consistent. "They should do something, whether it's coming to the club or walking the dog, every day or as often as possible," he said. "The first four to six weeks, you're working on just making exercise a habit. After that you can start muscle conditioning exercises."

If you're serious about getting in shape and staying there, you shouldn't think of your program as finite.

"There is no such thing as a diet, it's a lifestyle change. That's the only way you can look at it for the long term," said Jahn.

Happy New Year!

Invite friends over for a special evening to welcome in the new year—'93.

These easy-on-the-hostess appetizers are so good, they'll be the talk of the party. Everyone helps themselves, leaving you free to enjoy the party, too!

Happy New Year—Randee Rian

Shrimp New Year's Tree

Center your buffet table with a New Year's tree laden with shrimp. Using toothpicks split in half, cover a styrofoam cone with parsley. Then, using colored toothpicks, cover the tree with cooked shrimp. Let the guests pull out the shrimp and dip in a spicy cocktail sauce...such as the one following.

- 1/2 grated onion
- 1 pint mayonnaise
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 tsp. Tabasco
- 1 tsp. curry powder
- 2 T. horseradish
- 2 T. catsup
- 5 T. chili sauce
- 1 tsp. salt
- Freshly ground pepper

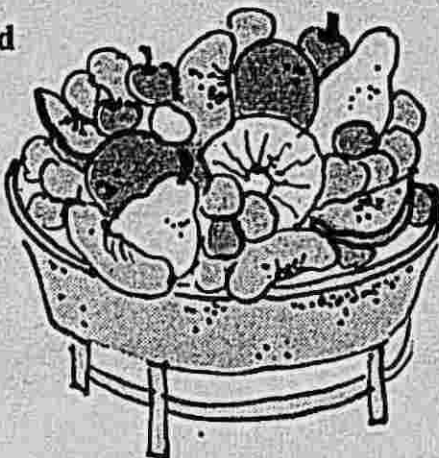

Combine all ingredients and mix well.

Hot Spiced Fruit

Try this for something different at your next open house. Serve this delectable fruit combination in a chafing dish or use a candle warmer to keep fruit at the right serving temperature.

- 1 can (20 oz.) sliced pineapple, drained
- 1 can (16 oz.) peach halves, drained
- 1 can (16 oz.) pear halves, drained
- 2 c. seedless grapes
- 1/4 c. maraschino cherries, cut into halves
- 1/2 c. butter
- 1/2 c. packed light brown sugar
- 1 T. lemon juice
- 1 tsp. ground cinnamon
- 1/2 tsp. ground nutmeg
- 1/4 tsp. ground cloves
- 1/8 tsp. salt, if desired

Combine fruits in greased 2 1/2-quart baking dish; mix gently. Combine remaining ingredients in small saucepan. Cook and stir over medium-low heat until butter and sugar melt. Spoon over fruit. Bake in preheated 325 degree oven until fruit is glazed and hot throughout, 20 to 30 minutes. Serve hot. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Camembert en Croute

Pretty presentation, looks like a flower with cream cheese dough twisted and wrapped around a wheel of melted Camembert cheese.

- 3/4 c. flour
- Pinch of salt
- 4 oz. cream cheese, softened
- 1/4 c. sweet unsalted butter
- 1 4-inch round Camembert wheel
- Poppy seeds
- Apple wedges

In a food processor combine flour, salt, cream cheese and butter until mixture forms a ball. If mixing by hand, combine butter and cream cheese, cut in flour and salt. Form a ball. Chill 15-20 minutes.

Roll on floured board into an 11-inch circle. Sprinkle seeds generously on circle within 2 inches of border. Place whole Camembert in center of dough and wrap by bringing ends to top of the cheese and twist like a flower. Refrigerate at least 1 hour.

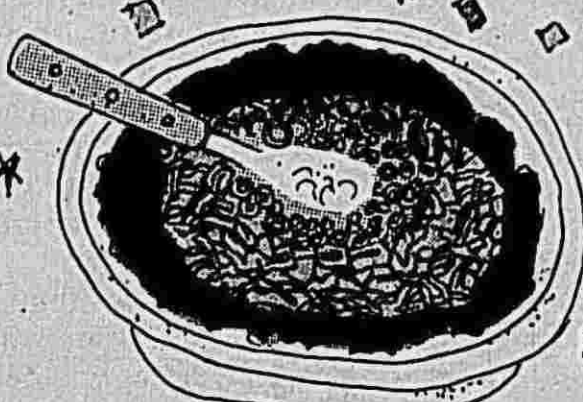

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Place cheese en croute on pie plate or cookie sheet and bake for 10 minutes. Reduce oven temperature to 350 degrees and bake 20 minutes longer. Cool on cookie sheet for 40 minutes before placing on a serving plate. Slice to serve. Apple wedges make a nice accompaniment.

Chutney-Cashew Spread

A great cheese spread with an Indian flavor; top lots of different kinds of crackers.

- 1 (8-oz.) pkg. cream cheese, softened
- 1 c. chutney, chopped
- 1 c. coarsely chopped cashews
- 2/3 c. sour cream
- 1 T. curry powder

Combine first 5 ingredients, and spoon into serving bowl. Arrange several of the following condiments on top: crumbled cooked bacon, flaked coconut, currants and chopped green onions. Serve with assorted crackers. Makes 3 cups.

New Year's Coffee Bar

Instead of serving plain coffee, set up a coffee bar near the dessert table. Brew the coffee with slivered almonds or strips of orange peel for added flavor. Set out brandy or several of your favorite liqueurs to stir into the coffee, such as Kirsch, Galliano, Kahlua, Triple Sec, Tia Maria or Amaretto. Offer ice cubes, whipped cream and grated chocolate, and serve with cinnamon stick stirrers. Add strawberries or maraschino cherries to garnish a cloud of whipped cream on top. Nice touch!

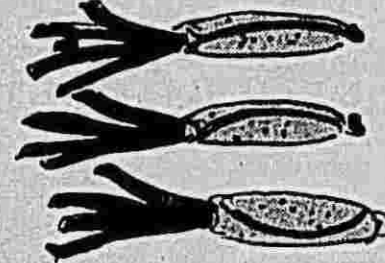

Scallion Flowers

Simply sensational...

- 1 8 oz. pkg. cream cheese
- 2 T. minced chives
- 25 slices salami, paper-thin, 3" in diameter
- 25 small scallions

Combine cream cheese and chives. Lightly cover each slice of salami with cream cheese mixture. Trim scallions to 5-6 inches, cutting off some of the greens, leaving as much of the white as possible. Place the white end of one scallion on the center of each salami slice. Bring sides of the salami together and press shut. Chill. Serves 8

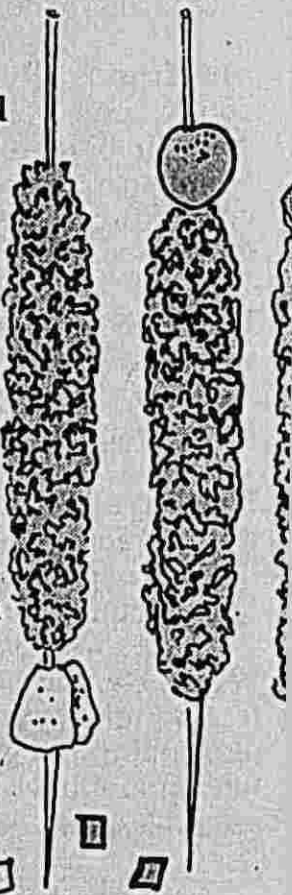

Hawaiian Chicken Strips

Crunchy and delicious! These chicken strips can be coated a day before cooking and serving. Refrigerate covered. Cooking time may need to be increased.

- 1/2 c. mayonnaise
- 1 T. Dijon-style mustard
- 1 T. honey
- 4 c. Rice Chex brand cereal, crushed to make 1 2/3 c.
- 1/2 c. flaked coconut
- 1 lb. skinless, boneless chicken breasts, cut into 1/2-inch wide strips
- Cherry tomatoes
- Pineapple chunks
- Green pepper chunks

Combine mayonnaise, mustard and honey in shallow dish. Combine cereal and coconut in another shallow dish or large plastic bag. Coat chicken strips, a few at a time, in mayonnaise mixture, then in cereal mixture. Thread chicken strips on skewers; place cherry tomato, pineapple chunk or pepper chunk on end of each skewer. Arrange on rack in shallow baking pan. Bake in preheated 400 degree F. oven 15 to 20 minutes or until chicken strips are no longer pink in center. Makes 25 to 30 appetizers.

Music

Osborne Brothers

Ever since joining the Grand Ole Opry in 1964, the Osborne Brothers have reigned as one of America's most popular bluegrass bands, and they will be making their second appearance at the Woodstock Opera House, 121 Van Buren St., Woodstock, on Saturday, Jan. 9 at 8 p.m. The core of their band consists of Bobby Osborne on mandolin and singing the high-tenor lead, and Sonny Osborne on banjo and singing baritone, accompanied by acoustic bass, guitar, and fiddle. Reserved seating is $14. Call (815) 336-5300 for ticket reservations.

Sold Brass Ensemble

The Solid Brass Ensemble, consisting of 10 of Chicago's finest Christian brass instrumentalists, will be featured in concert at Village Church of Gurnee on Jan. 10 at 5:30 p.m. This inspirational ensemble is enthusiastically received by thousands each concert season. Contact Joyce Ormond at 336-2728 for further information. The church is located 1/4 mile south of Gurnee Mills on Hunt Club Road.

Dance

Clogging classes

Clogging is dancing to country-Western and other music using the traditional Appalachian steps modified for current trends in line and circle styles. Clogging is a uniquely American form of dancing which developed in Appalachia over the last 300 years. Cloggers now dance with taps on the shoes, but the influence of the Irish Jig, English Morris dances, and Highland Fling can be recognized in the dance style. The German and Polish polkas, African slave dances, and Cherokee Indian dancing also show in the current dance routines. In the classes taught by Rick and Dorothy Graton, the basic movements and steps of clogging for individual "freestyle" dancing will be taught in addition to dances in the circle and line style and contemporary clogging routines. The eight-week beginner class starts Wednesday, Jan. 6 at Richmond Memorial Hall, from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Continuing Clogging will be on Wednesdays starting Jan. 6 at 7:30 p.m. Cost for either class is $36. No partner needed. Call (815) 678-4820 to register.

Midwinter breakdown

The Grayslake Park District presents the Midwinter Breakdown on Jan. 9 at the park district building, 42 S. Seymour, Grayslake. There will be live music by Ron Brown on fiddle and his wife Sandy on guitar while the old time dances will be called by "Uncle" Roy Reinholds. Everyone with or without square dancing experience is welcome. Free lessons will be held at 7 p.m. just before the dance. Barn dancing differs from modern "mainstream" and "plus" square dancing in that there is always live music at barn dances and the dances are traditional. Admission is $3 per person. For more information call 223-2081.

Auditions

The Bowen Park Theatre Company will be holding auditions for "The Royal Family" by George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber on Jan. 11 and 12 at the Jack Benny Center for the Arts in Waukegan. Mark Heller will be the director.

The "Sound of Music" plays now through Jan. 24, 1993 at Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre, Ten Marriott Dr., Lincolnshire. Performances are Wednesdays at 2 and 8 p.m.; Thursdays, Fridays at 8 p.m. and Saturdays at 5:30 and 9 p.m. and on Sundays at 2:30 and 7 p.m. Reservations can be made by calling 634-0200.

'Brigadoon'

Best Off Broadway Players will be holding open auditions for its spring musical production "Brigadoon" on Sunday, Jan. 10 and Monday, Jan. 11. Auditions will be held in the Cutting Hall, 150 E. Woods St., Palatine from 2 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 11 p.m. Sunday times are 7 to 11 p.m. This classic Lerner and Loew is being directed by Herb Berry and music direction by Tom Taylor. Needed are male and female actors, singers and dancers age 18 years old and above. Be prepared to sing, dance and read from available scripts. For more information call Anne Marie at 438-2556.

Andre's sixth season

Andre's Steakhouse in conjunction with

Rosebud Productions announces season six of dinner/theatre. The first show of the season will be an adult comedy by Murray Schisgal, "Oatmeal and Kisses." This will be the Midwest premiere for this show about a self-made millionaire who has a heart problem and who has hired a live-in doctor to help him lose weight and keep fit. Funny things happen as he tries to change his life style and unload his wife onto the young doctor. The play will run weekends in January opening on Saturday, Jan. 9 at the steakhouse located on Rte. 12 in Richmond. Call (815) 678-2671 for ticket reservations.

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Use that extraordinary mind of yours to resolve work-related problems. Know that it is all going to change soon. Count on dealing with important people this week — you know, Santa and his gang. By the weekend you will be whooping it up.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Others dominate the scenario this week, and since you're in the Christmas spirit, it's A-okay with you. Many of you will be in never-never land, as you will be so happy this holiday season. Expect to be out and about, doing your thing this weekend.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Popularity peaks this week, and you couldn't ask for a better week for this to happen. You are up to enjoying a loving and wonderful holiday. You are open to new horizons and different ways this weekend.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You have done more than your share to make this week work. Many of you have "slaved" over last-minute details. There is plenty of time for close negotiations this weekend. If single, your footloose and fancy-free days are likely to be over soon enough.

LEO (July 23-August 22) Don't count on being able to settle down this week at all. It seems as if you are in the holiday spirit, as you do round after round of partying. Count on a weekend of delight and celebration.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22) You know what you are aiming for and what it is you want this week. You seem very close to making this "real," and it's clear you will do whatever it takes to make it so. All the holiday happenings do have you exhausted this weekend. Rest before the next round.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22) You're happy as a cat this week. You express long-overdue feelings and another responds in kind. You may not be ready to share the news to the world, but by the weekend, you're likely to be in nirvana. Your more loving side emerges.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21) You tend to overdo and go to extremes, especially financially. Who's surprised! You do enjoy the holidays to the max this year. Make a point of getting connected with all those special people in your life. Expect a mellow weekend.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21) You peak this week. You love being you, and you get into all the gift-giving. You have no complaints with Santa this year. By the weekend, you're off, enjoying the people in your life. Expect some special moments.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19) Expect mixed feelings this week, and you will be able to handle the holiday roller coaster ride. Christmas definitely pulls you out of the doldrums, and of all signs, your stocking is the most filled — or so you think. You share the good vibes all weekend long.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18) Expect to soar at certain times of the week, and to be in the pits at other moments. You get a "late" Christmas, and it is worth it. Another indulges you and delights you this weekend.

PISCES (February 19-March 20) You move around and are most visible this week. Santa and his reindeer bring a close-to-perfect Christmas, where friends and family join you for a memorable few days. Whatever, you give thanks in a most interesting way this weekend.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: I have been out seeking employment since graduation which was in June. I have a degree in business and gave been going to school for what seems to be forever. I took some time off over the summer to kind of unwind. I felt I earned it. In September I started avidly looking for a job with an interview here and there but unfortunately no luck. Now as the holidays are approaching, my folks are on my back that I should be searching harder than I am. I have tried to tell them that nobody is going to hire anyone this close to the holidays. Will you please confirm this? W.G. - Antioch

A: Dear W.G., Sorry I can't help you out there. Certainly it is expected that as the holidays approach, the hiring that companies do, may slow down. It does not stop, however. Many companies at this time are seeking temporaries to come in and fill in where needed for year end data that needs to be compiled, analysis that needs to be done, information in general that needs to get out. I will tell you that with the holidays upon you, there are less people taking the time to search for a job because they are thinking along the same lines as you. Actually, now is your best time to be out there looking. So many companies look to hire on at the end of the year with the knowledge that new hires will come on board after the first of the year. Don't put off until tomorrow what everyone else may be putting off too. Opportunity knocks even during the holiday season.

Q: Dear...Search: I have a question regarding after interview protocol. How often should a person contact the employer after having interviewed with them. In particular, I interviewed with a company two weeks ago and was supposed to hear from them within three weeks from that time. I sent a thank-you note to the interviewer and have followed up with two telephone calls. I was not put through on either one of them. Is there a point in time where I may hurt my chances by appearing too aggressive? R.K. - Gumee

A: Dear R.K. Thank you notes are a definite must!!! It shows professionalism, respect and appreciation. A telephone call to the interviewer even after the note is sent can be beneficial. If you can get through to that individual, you may find out if there in fact is a possibility of your future with them. Be prepared with what to say before you make the call. Good Luck!

SHAMROCK

Carriage lights on the front facade of the three-car garage give a country estate flavor to the Shamrock, while the wrap-around porch gives it a comfortable, welcoming look. The varied textures of stucco, brick, lap siding and cedar shakes add to the street appeal.

The interior of this one-and-a-half story home offers that same mix of formality and relaxed informality. An office and a parlor are to the right and left of the vaulted foyer. An office door could be installed to provide direct access from the porch. The bay-windowed parlor is large and richly glassed, but light is muted by the covered porch. Thus protected from direct sunlight, furniture and draperies will retain their color far longer.

A spacious, skylit family room is at the heart of the home. A second floor balcony overlooks this vaulted space, and the foyer as well. Stairs can be accessed from both the foyer and the family room.

Utilities, a freezer and a pull-down ironing board hide behind pocket doors, adjacent to the nook. The pass-through kitchen has plenty of counter space, a trash compactor, a microwave, double ovens and a cooktop. A skylit dining room is at one end, the nook at the other. The entire space is open to a large family room with a two-sided fireplace and French doors that open onto a deck with an optional hot tub.

The deck and hot tub can also be reached through a set of French doors, in the sumptuous owners' suite. But these lucky adults needn't go outside to enjoy a hot soak. They can relax in their own private garden tub, nestled into a bay window stacked high with glass blocks. Other luxury features include an oversized shower, twin vanities, an enclosed toilet, and a large walk-in closet. A security system is just inside the entrance to the suite.

Upstairs, two large bedrooms share a roomy bathroom with two basins. The front-facing room has a dramatic arched window.

Pull-down attic stairs in the garage provide access to a large overhead storage space. The garage also comes outfitted with a workshop and recycling center.

For a study plan of the SHAMROCK (332-240) send $7.50, or for a plan book featuring all of our 1992 DREAM HOMES, send $6.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering).

Abbott Laboratories earns ground management award

Abbott Laboratories recently received the Professional Grounds Management Society's highest honor for the "high degree of excellence in which the grounds at the company's facility on Sheridan Road in North Chicago are maintained."

The upcoming issue of "Grounds Maintenance" magazine will announce that Abbott received the society's grand award in the category of industrial/office park. This year there were 20 entries in this category, with only one grand award presented.

CLC literary magazine is honored for high standards

The College of Lake County's literary magazine, "Willow Review," earned second place award in the Community College Humanities Association's national literary magazine competition.

The magazine was recognized for its design, layout and content. CLC was also placed second last year in a field of 85 entries.

The "Willow Review" is a collection of poems, short fiction and nonfiction published annually by the college.

The magazine is edited by CLC English instructor Palette Roeske, with assistance from Larry Starzec of Grayslake, Joy Wideburg of Waukegan and Jennifer Flauter of Mundelein.

Nursing Students Honored

CLC honored 31 new associate degree nursing program graduates. The graduates will go on to take their nursing board exams to become licensed as registered nurses.

The graduates are: Mary Pat Cavanaugh of Antioch, Deborah Whippen of Great Lakes, Gary Neyhart of Grayslake, Maria Hidalgo of Gurnee, Linda Sloss of Lake Zurich, Ann Alfonsin, Maria Gleason, Kathryn Handwerker, Sharon Potsic and Michelle Sarocka of Libertyville, Pamela Lynn and Shelly White-Corey of Lindenhurst, Margaret Nowacki of Long Grove, Lisa Kleven of Mundelein, Carolyn Tassone of Richmond, Marcia Crawford of Round Lake, Debra Hookham and Diane Mikulan of Vernon Hills and Sandra Davis of Wadsworth.

CLC named Center of Excellence

The College of Lake County, along with six other statewide community colleges, has been designated a Center of Excellence in Adult Education.

CLC will serve as exemplary model demonstration programs for the delivery of adult basic and adult secondary education in the state. Each college designated as a center will promote new methods of education to ensure that individuals deficient in basic skills such as reading, writing, computing and communication can achieve these skills and thereby achieve success in their personal, academic and career goals.

CLC will utilize a multimedia laboratory setting called Discovery Circles for its Center of Excellence. The program is based on the philosophy that adult education students are most successful when they participate in setting the pace of their learning and are active in education rather than passive observers of the process. The program emphasizes a basic familiarity with computers that will serve students who are planning to continue their academic or vocational education.

ICCB Executive Director said that the "Center of Excellence will be the 'bridges' for individuals who lack the necessary skills to cope with today's world and enable them to become active participants in the workforce. Each of these centers incorporates the effective use of technology into its programs. Technology not only helps to accelerate students' learning of basic skills, but it also provides familiarity with today's computer-oriented work environment.

Libertyville looks to settle on lineup during tourney

When Libertyville High's boys varsity basketball team travels to Wheeling next week for the annual Christmas tournament, Coach Max Sanders and Co. will be hoping a starting lineup will be decided before the four games are over.

"Saturday night we had James Lewis and Andrew Robertson back and had more of a quicker lineup. We're still experimenting," Libertyville Coach Max Sanders said.

The Wildcats fell to Waukegan 59-57 in non-conference play. The night before, they came out ahead 57-53 at Fenton for a 4-1 league mark and in contention in the North Suburban Conference at tourney break time. "The tournament gives us a chance to experiment some more and see what kind of ballclub we would like to be, whether it be controlled tempo or more up tempo," Sanders said.

Matt Heldman sparked a Libertyville rally against Waukegan, with 20 points. The Wildcats outscored the Bulldogs (7-2) 19-14 in the final stanza but Waukegan got the key rebounds in the end.

"After the game, (Waukegan) Coach Frank Belmont came up to me and said, 'that was the hardest anyone had played against his team yet,' and that was quite a compliment," Sanders said.

Against Fenton, 6-5 junior center Jamie Carruthers scored 12 of his 20 points in the fourth quarter. Heldman added 16 for the 5-4 Wildcats.

"Jamie had a great game points and rebounds wise. Matt stepped forward and got some key baskets," Sanders said.

It was two free-throws by Carruthers with 2.5 seconds left which iced the win. Carruthers is up to 12 points per game, while Heldman is up to 20.

Sean Devine, a 6-1 junior guard, scored 16 points in the Waukegan game. "That could take some pressure off Jamie and Matt. We're looking to get more people involved," Sanders said.

Robertson, the do-everything back for the Wildcat football team last fall, scored three points and Lewis four.

Speaking of Wheeling, the Wildcats may represent the county's best bet. The Libertyville squad finished fourth and third there the last two years. Defending champion Stevenson is at Coach Ken Johnson's hometown of Elgin tourney...

BOYS HOOPS by Steve Peterson

Don't look now, part I: Grant, yes, Grant, has passed by Stevenson with the most wins at Christmas tournament break. The Bulldogs are 8-2 even after stumbling 70-60 to Steinmetz at Jacobs. The Bulldogs, led by Tim Cullotta and Co., have already topped last year's victory total of seven and are chopping at the bit for the next two games with Round Lake after break. And who knows, maybe even a rematch with those mighty Pats. The Bulldogs were Stevenson's first victim, 100-42, in last year's March to Champaign...

Don't look now, part II: North Chicago, after an 0-5 start, has put together a three-game win streak with a 30-point blowout of Zion-Benton included...

Roller coaster ride, or what: Carmel, led by 36 points from Jermaine Williams, scored 94 points in a 96-94 loss to Hersey. Next, Carmel scored 42 points in a 58-42 loss to Notre Dame.

It is one of the benefits when you are coming off a 23-3 record.

"It's a winning attitude that is carrying over from last year. After a loss that ends a winning streak, we want to start a new streak," CLC Coach Don Zeman said.

The Lancers saw their six-game win streak go by the boards in a 58-52 loss to DuPage in the title game of the College of DuPage tourney. The Lancers beat Kishwaukee 63-62 in the first round.

Antioch graduate Liz Johnson is the team's leading scorer as the Lancers head into a week off with an 8-4 mark. Johnson is averaging 14 points a game.

"We have been spreading our points out. All nine of our players have contributed at one time or another. That will be a key in the second half," Zeman said.

The Lancers will welcome Jenny D'Andrea to the roster when the team is at Moraine Valley Jan. 2 with a 3 p.m. game.

D'Andrea, a Round Lake grad, has defense as her forte, Zeman noted.

Balanced scoring was the case in both wins last week. Against Joliet in a 76-51 win, Johnson topped her season average with 16 points, Jenny Hagen had 15, Julianne Frankowski 12 and Jessica Conti had 10.

"The defense put the clamps on them in the second half," Zeman said.

A basket by Sheri Ernest tied the game against Kishwaukee at 62-all in the first round at DuPage. Hagen had a chance to win the game, but did it the hard way at the free-throw line, missing the second but making the first with nine seconds left.

"Historically, Jenny has been a pretty good free-throw shooter, but she has struggled this year; it could be because of her wrist injury," Zeman said.

Hagen finished with 14 points and Johnson had 12. Heather Ford, a freshman guard from Wauconda, came off the bench for her best night of 13 points.

Mustangs outgun Jacobs in battle of three-pointers

Looking for a display of three-point shooting?

You need not try to get a next-to-impossible Bulls ticket, but only pluck a couple of dollars down in Algonquin, settle back and watch the Mundelein Mustangs and Jacobs Golden Eagles go at it in a first-round game of the Eagles' Christmas tournament.

The Mustangs had seven of the 12 three-pointers in coming away with an 84-72 win. Kyle Kessel led the barrage with four, while Matt Brua added three and Jacobs had seven three's of its own. The win game the Mustangs a split for the weekend and a 4-5 record. Mundelein lost to North Suburban Conference-leading Lake Forest 80-67 the night before.

"Kyle had 24 and Matt Brua had 19 but Thad Miller had 20 and Gerald Coleman 19 for a pretty good one, two, three, four punch," Mundelein Coach Dennis Kessel said.

The Mustangs broke open the Jacobs game with a 30-20 run in the third quarter. Jacobs trailed by one at halftime, but by the time the third quarter ended, Mundelein had amassed its game-deciding lead.

"Thad Miller had a strong game inside to compliment the outside," Coach Kessel said.

Mundelein faced Steinmetz, first-round winners over Grant 70-60, in the second round Tuesday, looking for a bid in Wednesday's final game.

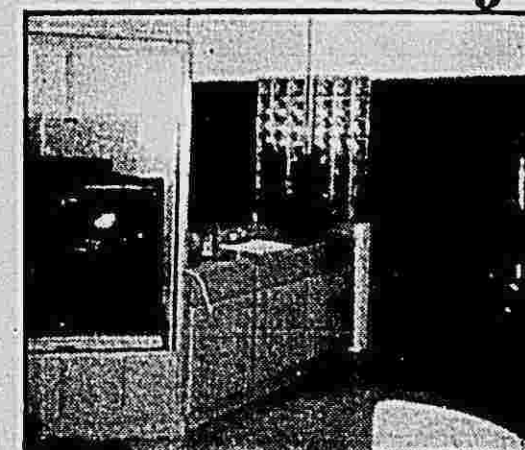

In the Lake Forest game, it was just too much Rico Stringer and Josh Lerner for the Mustangs to handle. Stringer had 30 points, Lerner 14 as the Scouts broke the game open with a 28-12 third quarter run.

Kyle Kessel led Mundelein's efforts with 23 points. Brua added 20 and Coleman 14, Miller 10.

Round Lake stays in first, nets tourney win at Jacobs

Not only did the Round Lake boys basketball team stay in first place in the Northwest Suburban Conference, but the Panthers kept their edge with a 13-point win to start the Jacobs tournament.

Aaron Yazzie was a force for the Panthers against the rival Rams, scoring 18 points and dominating the inside game in a 69-57 Round Lake win.

"Aaron has been a real plus for us. He was a force inside and Justin Koski and Bob Swanson were giving us second and third shots," Round Lake Coach Bob Ward said.

The Panthers improved to 5-0 in the NWSC, and 7-2 overall with the two wins. The loss was the second straight conference defeat for the Rams, 3-2, 4-5.

One of the Rams' most effective weapons, the three-point shot, disappeared for the two league games. Grayslake misfired on 28 of 31 tries from three-point land.

"We did not shoot the three real well the last two games our percentage has dropped off," Grayslake Coach Greg Groth said.

Yazzie, 6-2 post player, was able to get inside position against the smaller Rams. "Yazzie was strong inside and that has hurt us all year, anybody with meat has hurt us inside," Groth said. "The game was called loosely and that took us out of our game."

Round Lake led 19-12 after one but the Rams won the second quarter 15-11, cutting the lead to three points at half-time. But Round Lake scored the first three baskets of the second half, opening up the 12-point margin.

Scott Ellenwood did what the Grayslake shooters couldn't hit the three's with six of his 20 points coming from long range. Ben Buchannon had 12 points and Swanson had 10.

Bob Witt led the Rams with 13 points. Todd Alfred had 12 and Geoff Sponholtz had 10.

The balanced scoring continued for Round Lake against McHenry. Ellenwood had 16 points, Swanson 14.

"We were ready to play," Ward said.

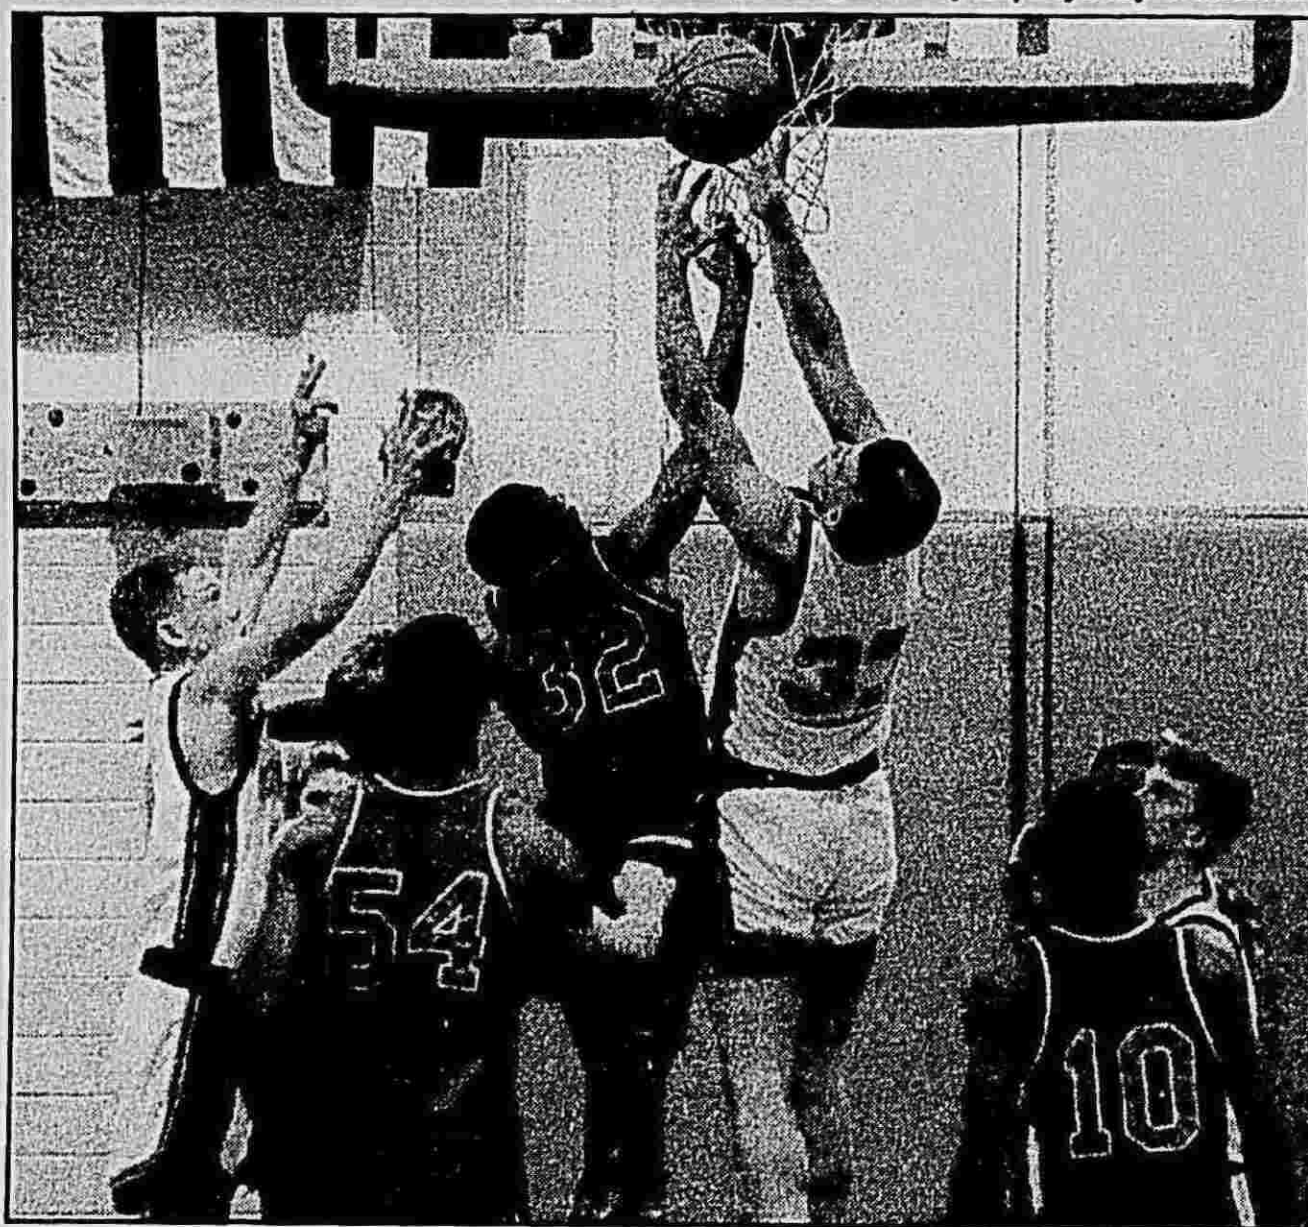

Round Lake, which battled Cary-Grove and Conant in the next two rounds at Jacobs, already matched last year's one win record there.

Grayslake travels to Illinois State University Dec. 28 to take on Dunlap in a 10:30 a.m. game. Groth said he likes the different tournament for the Rams, at ISU's Redbird Arena.

"We will be playing schools that are more our size, 500 to 1,200 enrollment," Groth said. "At Luther North, we won the first game the last two years, but then we had to go up against a Chicago Schurz," Groth said.

In another Northwest Suburban Conference game, Johnsburg lost its sixth straight with a 78-65 loss to Marian Central. The Skyhawks (0-5, 2-6) were led by Rob Fehling's 16 points.

Two Pats claim firsts at meet

Stevenson High School's wrestling team placed second of nine teams at the Highland Park wrestling tournament.

The Patriots finished with 137 points, second to Loves Park Harlem's 161. Willowbrook was just behind the Pats at 134.5.

Weber was fourth at 111.5, followed by Freeport at 103, Highland Park at 89.5. North Chicago, the other area team, had 41.5 points and Luther South was last with just two points.

Gaining firsts for the Pats were Brian Paul at 119 pounds and Dean Bielawa at 189 pounds.

Jamie Lipitz at 103, Ryan Katz at 112 earned seconds.

Placing third were: Brett Pyka at 135 and Adam Mankowski at 171.

Mike Nuara at 140, Mike Kurtzman at 145 and Josh Duncan garnered fourth-places.

Bowling group picks honorees

Lake County Women's Bowling Assn. has elected four inductees to the Lake County Women's Bowling Assn. Hall of Fame. Also selected were four Stars of Tomorrow and two Bowlers of the Year.

For meritorious service, the awards go to Gert Erick of Lake Forest and Beatrice Herrick of Lincolnshire; for superior performance, the honors go to Judy Donat of Round Lake and Karen Fox of Libertyville. The four Stars of Tomorrow award winners each receive a $500 scholarship from the Lake County YABA. They are: Todd Friedmann, Marci Lozano, Joseph Wascow and Caryn Newman. Wendy Esp of Lake Forest and Sue Piagentini of Lake Villa were named bowlers of the year.

Grant drops a pair

After two straight one-point victories in Northwest Suburban Conference action, Grant is finding the going even tougher in the Jacobs Holiday Tournament.

The Bulldogs are sitting at 8-3 overall and 4-1 in the league after falling to Steinmetz 78-60 and Mundelein 84-71 at Jacobs. Two more games await the Bulldogs in the tourney.

Grant went into the tourney immediately after posting a 55-54 NWSC win over visiting Wauconda. Tim Culotta scored six of his game-high 19 points in the fourth quarter to boost the Bulldogs.

"I think after coming in at 7-1, we thought it was enough to just take the floor and go home with a win," said Grant coach Tom Maple. "If we want to stay in the conference race, that was an important win. I'm glad we escaped."

Byron Johnson's 18 points paced Wauconda, which had the last two possession of the game but misfired.

"We needed a house to rent with possible option. We tried Realtors, with no luck. I finally ran an ad in the Lakeland Classified under 'Homes Wanted.' A builder called me the 2nd week. We are moving into the area we wanted at month's end. Thanks for your help."
